Sources of Criminal Law

- Only federal government. Parliament has exclusive legislative jurisdiction for criminal law and procedure
- No judge made offence. Common law offences abolished in 1953. Charge must always allege a breach of a statutory provision (usually the Criminal Code)
 - Risk of individual subjectivity
 - It ensures the closest thing to a consistent judicial outcome across Canada

Sample Offence the Criminal Code

Assault:

- 265 (1) A person commits an assault when
 - (a) without the consent of another person, he applies force intentionally to that other person, directly or indirectly
 - (2) This section applies to all forms of assault, including sexual assault
- Law deals with two main elements. The first is the act element. The second is the mental element
- Application of force without consent
- What was in the defenders or accused mind
 - For any bad behaviour to be considered assault the prosecution has to prove that intention was present
- Absence of consent
 - Consent may be vitiated where "serious hurt or non-trivial bodily harm" intended and caused
- Knowledge of absence of consent (possible defence of mistake of fact, must take "reasonable steps" to ascertain consent)
- A mistake of law is no defence. You can, however, argue that you that they were consenting
 - Actions are considered consent in these cases

Are There Any Limits on What Can be Criminalized?

- The difference between assault and a morality offence like drug consumption is that assault infringes on the sovereignty of others
- The Bedford v. Canada case
 - Canada became the first country to legalize sex work
 - This is a case of a judge changing law
 - They did it through legislation but did a partial decriminalization
