National Teachers Appreciation Week 2015 Ideas:

Guardians of the Next Generation Nicholas D. Young, Kristen Bonanno-Sotiropoulos, Jennifer A. Smolinski, 2018-09-30 Ask teachers why they have pursued a career in education and they are likely to mention a strong desire to make a difference in the lives of children or suggest that teaching was a calling not just a job Research shows that in addition to these reasons teachers also indicated that they joined the academic ranks to share a deep interest in a particular subject area to work with students of different backgrounds and abilities or to engage students in creative ways For these reasons and many more Guardians of the Next Generation Igniting the Passion for High Quality Teaching addresses the very heart of what helps teachers to make learning meaningful to children School-Based EFL Teacher Professional Development for Task-Based Language Teaching Jing Yixuan, 2024-08-22 This book investigates the efficacy of a teacher educator collaborating with rural Chinese teachers of English to activate agentic adoption of task based language teaching TBLT Set in rural northwestern China the book traces the researcher s role as a participant observer during which she conducted a 12 week immersive study in a rural secondary school The initial approach focused on understanding and trust building followed by the development of a collaborative partnership with teachers and results demonstrate that given appropriate guidance and assistance rural Chinese teachers successfully incorporated tasks into their classrooms to encourage increased motivation for learning and communicating in English This book will be of interest to students and scholars of applied linguistics language education and TESOL and the author demonstrates that true teacher educators are more effective as learning partners to teachers than simply a coach or lecturer Teacher Preparation and Practice Patrick M. Jenlink, 2020-08-24 Teacher Preparation and Practice Reconsideration of Assessment for Learning introduces the reader to a collection of thoughtful research based works by authors that represent current thinking about assessment What we know is that assessments are designed and implemented in educational settings both university based teacher preparation and school based teacher practice in school classrooms that serve to inform and guide teaching and learning We also know that there is a dichotomy between assessment of learning summative and assessment for learning formative that is recognized on a global level in teacher preparation Importantly the reported research examines assessment and the application of professional judgment guided by assessment for learning in contrast to the more normalizing assessment of learning that currently pervades the nature of assessment in teacher preparation and practice There is a need in the work of teaching for assessments that focus on cultural competence and relational sensitivity communication skills and the combination of rigor and imagination fundamental to the teaching and learning practices in classrooms Each chapter focuses on assessment and the preparation and practice of teachers who will enter classrooms to instruct the next generation of students Chapter One opens the book with a focus on assessment and its relationship to teaching and learning in the classroom providing the reader with an introduction to the book and an understanding of the role assessment plays in teacher preparation and practice The authors of Chapters Two Nine present

field based research that examines assessment in teacher preparation and practice Each chapter offers the reader an examination of assessment in teacher preparation and practice based on formal research that provides the reader with insight into how the research study was conducted as well as equally important the findings and conclusions drawn with respect to assessment and teacher preparation and practice Finally Chapter Ten presents an epilogue that focuses on the future of assessment in teacher preparation and practice

Ly, 2025 Transformative social and emotional learning TSEL is a way of teaching that sees social and emotional learning and social justice as inextricably linked This practical guide will support teachers in centering TSEL in their work and in cultivating a commitment to justice with young children in developmentally appropriate ways The authors provide stories perspectives and concrete tools including planning resources for teachers tips on integrating TSEL into different content areas research on how to foster positive racial identity development support for integrating transformative play into the classroom a roadmap for teacher educators and advice on how to navigate barriers to doing this work The text provides specific examples that demonstrate how to implement complex concepts in accessible ways Chapters are designed to be practical though not overly prescriptive so teachers can readily adapt takeaways to their own practice

Book Features Social and emotional learning grounded in equity and social justice goals Social and emotional learning is so important in all classrooms This book shows that it must be asset based contextualized in sociocultural awareness grounded in critical pedagogies and approached with an equity and social justice lens Concrete tools for a complex concept TSEL as a concept can be difficult to access for classroom teachers who are already creating so much content This book provides concrete tools and specific examples of how to implement TSEL without oversimplifying this work A foundation of social justice for young children Social justice work has traditionally focused more on adolescents This book provides tools for building a developmentally appropriate foundation for doing this work with younger changemakers pre K grade 6 This important resource is for every educator invested in carrying out social and emotional learning that challenges injustice and honors all of the different identities that our students hold Scott Seider professor Boston College

The Age of Accountability Dominic Belmonte, 2020-05-14 It's clear that American public education has been under assault for more than the last 30 years So much of this current age of accountability has focused on blame both of teachers and those who prepare them Somehow unlike in other professions declarations were made to the effect that anyone could teach better than teachers including business leaders and people from top universities without teacher preparation The Age of Accountability scrutinizes the attack on teachers through weaponized data While an effective corporate tool to improve bottom line goals its use in education became more sinister and misanthropic International PISA scores imply the mediocre ability of American students fueling a belief that American education needed more than an upgrade The only answer that would placate many was a complete upheaval a redefinition of a teacher and who should be permitted to become one We teachers ceded authority to these business and legislative forces Their subsequent fervor for testing overwhelmed teaching and drove the joy out of schooling for students It is time for a recounting of what has been done to the profession and to our children Young teachers need encouragement and veteran teachers need reminding of their valiant and effective efforts Perfect for courses such as History of Education Assessment in Teacher Evaluation Value Added Metrics Urban Education University Teacher Preparation Teaching and Learning

Teachers' Personal Epistemologies

Gregory Schraw, Jo Lunn Brownlee, Lori Olafson, Michelle Vander Veldt Brye, 2017-07-01 The focus of this book is to explore teachers evolving personal epistemologies or the beliefs we hold about the origin and development of knowledge in the context of teaching The chapters focus on a range of conceptual frameworks about how university and field based experiences influence the connections between teachers personal epistemologies and teaching practice In an earlier volume we investigated preservice and inservice teachers beliefs and teaching practices Brownlee Schraw and Berthelsen 2011 While we addressed the nature of teachers personal epistemologies learning and teaching practices and approaches for changing beliefs throughout teacher education programs the volume did not address conceptual frameworks for the development of teacher s personal epistemologies To address this gap the book is focused on teacher educators teachers and teacher education programmers in universities with an overall aim of highlighting how we might support preservice teachers involvement in learning that is challenging and inservice teachers engagement in professional experiences that promote changes in teaching practice We argue that teachers need to be encouraged to question their beliefs and develop increasingly sophisticated beliefs about their knowledge and their students knowledge that facilitate learning and intellectual growth
