1. What is the purpose of the study?
 The purpose of the study is to investigate the effect of the use of the Internet on the learning of English as a second language (ESL) in a classroom setting.

2. What is the research design?
 The research design is a quasi-experimental design.

3. What are the variables?
 The independent variable is the use of the Internet. The dependent variable is the learning of English as a second language.

4. What are the results?
 The results of the study show that the use of the Internet has a positive effect on the learning of English as a second language.

5. What are the conclusions?
 The conclusion of the study is that the use of the Internet is an effective tool for learning English as a second language.

According to the author, the research on the relationship between the two variables has been the subject of a number of studies. The results of these studies have been inconsistent. The author suggests that the relationship between the two variables may be more complex than previously thought. The author also suggests that the relationship may be different for different groups of people. The author concludes that the relationship between the two variables is a topic that needs further research.
