(BRT) Policies in Low Income Asian Cities Suryani Eka Wijaya, Muhammad Imran, 2019-02-25 Public transport in low income Asian LIA cities fails to meet people's mobility needs, generates high greenhouse gas (GHG) emissions and worsens social exclusion. Following successful Bus Rapid Transit (BRT) projects in Bogotá and Curitiba, LIA countries promoted BRT in their large to medium sized cities. However, the political and institutional structure distinctive to LIA cities makes their implementation difficult. This book investigates policy tensions by examining the planning and attempted implementation of BRT projects taking Bandung and Surabaya in Indonesia as case studies. It analyses BRT to understand how power and communication gaps in institutional relationships between different actors at multiple levels of governance create conflict and concludes that top down policies and funding mechanisms cause tension in intergovernmental relationships. It also found that BRT solutions generated socio-political tension arising from the socio-economic realities and local political dynamics that shaped city structure, mobility patterns and capacity in resolving conflicts. The superimposed BRT solution generated discursive tension because conflicting discourses were not aligned with local economic, social and environmental issues. The book highlights the need to take into consideration the vital role of local social and political actors, institutions and planning processes as they respond to and shape policies that are imposed by higher levels. College Costs, Literacy Essentials Regie Routman, 2018 How do we ensure that all students are engaged each day in meaningful, challenging and joyful work and have equal opportunity to learn? That is the central question Regie Routman addresses in Literacy Essentials: Engagement, Excellence and Equity for All Learners. Her response is that such an outcome is only possible within a culture of empowerment in which all students and teachers feel encouraged and supported to let their voices be heard, explore their passions and interests, develop deep knowledge and become their fullest and truest selves. Based on her ongoing teaching, leading and coaching in diverse schools and districts, Regie offers K-12 teachers and leaders practical, easy-to-implement tools to help students develop as self-determining readers, writers and learners, including Take Action sections with specific suggestions for authentically teaching, assessing and learning. Extensive research that is easily accessible and actionable. Personal stories that connect to literacy teaching and learning.
