Development and Validation of a Computerized Adaptive EFL Test Lianzhen He, Shangchao Min, 2024-02-27 The book reports on the development and validation of a computerized adaptive EFL test which is used as an exit requirement for non English major undergraduates at a major Chinese university Unlike the tests reported in previous research on computerized adaptive language test CALT which were mostly designed to assess vocabulary grammar and reading this test consists of listening and reading components using both dichotomously scored stand alone items and polytomously scored testlet based items The book is an essential and stimulating read for researchers and graduate students in the testing domain particularly for those who are interested in CALT item response theory IRT and quantitative research methods in general It also constitutes a solid reference resource for L2 teachers and test developers One of the distinctive features of the book is its operationalization of assessment use argument AUA in the investigation of the construct validity of the CALT Another strength of this book is that it provides insight into the specific procedures that are followed in the development of CALTs and addresses a few key issues such as local item dependence and DIF detection that were ignored in previous CALT development research Legality Scott Shapiro, Scott J. Shapiro, 2013-09-02 What is law In this book Scott Shapiro draws on current work in the theory of action to offer an original and compelling answer to this perennial philosophical question

Radiation Protection Jacob Shapiro, 2002 This highly successful manual has served for nearly three decades as the definitive guide to the safe use of radioactive materials Completely revised and updated the fourth edition presents a new dimension by adding coverage of nonionizing radiation and is thus concerned with the entire field of radiation protection The author takes the novel approach of introducing the whole range of energies possessed by particles and electromagnetic waves at the beginning of the text thus integrating coverage of ionizing and nonionizing radiation rather than considering them as two separate disciplines He goes on to cover the entire spectrum of radiation sources including radionuclides x ray machines accelerators nuclear reactors power lines microwave towers and cellular phones With its expanded coverage including a broader focus on public health issues this new volume will serve as an important training and reference resource not only for research scientists physicians and engineers but for regulatory officials attorneys engineers and environmental health and safety professionals The breadth of citations alone makes this resource invaluable Technical Abstract Bulletin , Medical evacuation in emergencies World Health Organization, 2025-07-04 In times of crisis whether due to disasters armed conflicts or other health emergencies the timely and well coordinated evacuation of patients is a critical component of emergency response Past emergencies have demonstrated the urgent need for standardized approaches to both pre hospital support for medical evacuation medevac and medevac operations themselves The absence of clear protocols coupled with delays miscommunication and inadequate care during transit can severely impact patient outcomes Establishing standardized procedures ensures that medical evacuations are conducted safely efficiently and in coordination with the broader health care and emergency response system This guidance aims to provide a comprehensive framework for the safe and context adapted coordination clinical care operations support and logistics relevant to governments national authorities including ministries of health civil protection and civil defence national and international Emergency Medical Teams EMTs nongovernmental organizations NGOs Emergency Medical Services EMS and other key stakeholders operating in the medevac space or wishing to build this kind of capacity It defines minimum standards and recommendations for the development and classification of respective specialized care teams SCTs This is particularly relevant for contexts without pre existing or functional prehospital or medevac systems and can support country level capacity building regional and sub regional planning and the development of SCTs

The United States Department of Defense Law of War Manual
Michael A. Newton, 2019-01-24 The United States Department of Defense Law of War Manual Commentary and Critique provides an irreplaceable resource for any politician international expert or military practitioner who wishes to understand the approach taken by the American military in the complex range of modern conflicts Readers will understand the strengths and weaknesses of US legal and policy pronouncements and the reasons behind the modern American way of war whether US forces deploy alone or in coalitions This book provides unprecedented and precise analysis of the US approach to the most pressing problems in modern wars including controversies surrounding use of human shields fighting in urban areas the use of cyberwar and modern weaponry expanding understanding of human rights and the rise of ISIS This group of authors including academics and military practitioners provides a wealth of expertise that demystifies overlapping threads of law and policy amidst the world's seemingly intractable conflicts
