Micklitz,Mateja Durovic,André Janssen,2022-08-25 This book looks at the consumer protection offered in a range of Asian countries for example China Japan and South Korea in key areas such as consumer sales law unfair terms product liability and unfair commercial practices However it is interesting to note that consumer protection is on the rise everywhere and to compare how this differs depending upon the legal cultures It is also fascinating to reflect on the influence of models for law reform such as the EU laws ASEAN has also affected the development of consumer policy for its member states The book takes the form of national reports which explain the development of the law and also shed light on how the law works in practice The book also contains thematic reports which look at each area of the law from a comparative perspective Commentators from around the globe reflect on their impression of Asian consumer law based on their own differing legal systems and benchmarks A must read for anyone with an interest in consumer law in Asia and beyond this book will form the basis of further research and discussion internationally

Information Obligations and Disinformation of Consumers Gert Straetmans,2019-09-05

This book focuses on recent developments in consumer law specifically addressing mandatory disclosures and the topical problem of information overload It provides a comparative analysis based on national reports from countries with common law and civil law traditions in Asia America and Europe and presents the reports in the form of chapters that have been drafted on the basis of a questionnaire and which use the same structure as the questionnaire to allow them to be easily compared The book starts with an analysis of the basic assumptions underlying the current consumer protection models and examines whether and how consumer models adapt to the new market conditions The second part addresses the information obligations themselves first highlighting the differences in the reported countries before narrowing the analysis down to countries with a general pre contractual information duty particularly the transparency requirements that often come with such a duty The next part examines recent developments in the law on food labelling commercial practices and unfair contract terms in order to identify whether similar traits can be found in European and non European jurisdictions The fourth part of the book focuses on specific information obligations in the financial services and e commerce sectors discussing the fact that legislators are experimenting with different forms of summary disclosures in these sectors The final part provides a critical appraisal of the recent developments in consumer information obligations addressing the question of whether the multiple criticisms from behavioural sciences necessitate abandonment or refinement of current consumer information models in favour of new more adequate forms of consumer protection and providing suggestions

Consumer ADR in Europe Christopher Hodges, Iris Benöhr, Naomi Creutzfeldt, 2012-05-10 This is the first systematic comparative study into how consumer ADR systems usually ombudsmen and mediators work the differing national architectures within which they operate and how they can be improved It describes ADR schemes in Belgium France Germany Lithuania the Netherlands Poland Slovenia Spain Sweden and the United Kingdom as well as emerging pan EU dispute resolution schemes Use of the techniques of mediation conciliation and adjudication are noted It also covers EU measures on consumer ADR and 2011 proposals for legislation on ADR and ODR Data on volumes cost and duration of ADR schemes are compared both between different systems and with courts The authors findings underpin EU and national developments and outline options for future policy Findings and proposals are included for the functions scope performance essential requirements architecture and operation of ADR systems The relationships between ADR courts and regulators are discussed and need for reforms are noted This is a ground breaking work that will have a major impact on European legal systems This title is included in Bloomsbury Professional's International Arbitration online service B2C Arbitration: Consumer Protection in Arbitration

Alexander J. Belohlávek, 2012-10-01 Consumer protection has become a phenomenon of the past years and the combination of consumer protection and arbitration is especially sensitive Some countries experience tens of thousands of consumer arbitrations each year while others significantly limit or even entirely exclude arbitration in consumer disputes Many countries have undergone certain reforms in consumer disputes the main objective of which is the protection of consumers in arbitration The controversial variable is the degree of protection to be afforded to the consumer both under the applicable substantive law and in procedural terms These are the main issues addressed in this book Apart from the key topic the author has extensively elaborated on certain fundamental categories such as public interest and public policy all primarily in connection to the procedural mechanisms of consumer protection he has also analyzed the applicable European law and the case law of the ECJ and offered an overview of the individual systems employed in both European and non European countries especially the USA and Canada An integral part of this book is an extensive comparison and analysis of the voluminous case law several tens of decisions with reference to more than three hundred other available court decisions The book also focuses on the position of the consumer in the individual procedural stages the intervention of courts in arbitration motivated by consumer protection the individual stages of proceedings recognition and enforcement of arbitral awards rendered in consumer disputes both in domestic context and in the international milieu etc The international practice significantly influences the domestic environment in the individual countries The key issue in the EU countries is in principle the enforcement of EU standards which influence the domestic models of consumer protection primarily in connection with the autonomous EU interpretation of a number of institutions Many related issues have not yet been addressed in the case law of certain states In fact some of them have never even been discovered Besides the enforcement of foreign arbitral awards requires inter alia the compliance with extra EU international obligations binding on the individual states And finally arbitration is not regulated by the EU law as opposed to consumer protection Naturally arbitration is to a significant extent regulated by international law This results in conflicts between national international interpretation and interpretation pursuant to the EU law where the circumstances allow to apply the EU law This book is intended for all readers who have any experience with enforcement of consumer rights as well as for all professionals dealing with arbitration in general It is therefore intended for general legal practitioners lawyers primarily arbitrators of course but also for judiciary dealing with civil matters in the broadest sense Apart from a voluminous case law the book quotes from a number of domestic and foreign sources and above all offers a long list of structured bibliography and detailed subject index as well as a table of states table of cases and list of legal sources It is therefore not only an important tool for the practice but also a useful instrument for academics lawyers as well as other professionals

Directive 1999/44/EC and the Smart Regulation: Has the Directive Complied with the Principles of Simplicity and Proportionality Under the Smart Regulation Initiative for Consumers in Germany and England and Wales? Zlatka

Koleva,2015-02 Consumption is one of the most influential albeit dynamic economic factors of the 21st century and therefore the legal rules and norms governing consumers are radically changing overtime On European level Directive 1999 44 EC has had a significant impact on the legal systems of member states since its regulatory framework conflicts with well established traditions rooted in the legal history of a country This book will explore how and where the directive s norms clash with national law Germany and England and Wales will serve as examples of two opposite approaches towards its implementation Furthermore the effects of the directive s incorporation into these domestic legal systems will be assessed in the light of the Smart Regulation s normative principles of simplicity and proportionality in order to determine whether it has improved the position of the consumer or legal certainty has been once again undermined Advances in Natural, Human-Made, and legal rules in private law such as unfair competition and contract laws the book also differentiates between the utilitarian and deontological principles that underpin competition regulation This historical and philosophical approach is used to compare two influential jurisdictions England and Spain These legal systems have had a significant impact on the development of legal rules in Common law and Civilian Latin American countries respectively Through this lens the book further analyses the concept of competition and its value in each legal tradition This understanding in turn helps clarify the scope of competition regulation within antitrust and private law and how the two fields coexist Additionally the book examines the role of property law theory in the context of competition regulation The book will be of interest to students and scholars in the field of competition law tort law and legal history

Legal Integration and Language Diversity C.J.W. Baaij, 2018-02-01 How can the European Union create laws that are uniform in a multitude of languages Specifically how can it attain both legal integration and language diversity simultaneously without the latter compromising the former C J W Baaij argues that the answer lies in the domain of translation A uniform interpretation and application of EU law begins with the ways in which translators and jurist linguists of the EU legislative bodies translate the original legislative draft texts into the various language versions In the European Union law and language are inherently connected The EU pursues legal integration i e the incremental harmonization and unification of its Member States laws for the purpose of reducing national regulatory differences between Member States However in its commitment to the diversity of European languages its legislative institutions enact legislative instruments in 24 languages Language Diversity and Legal Integration assesses these seemingly incompatible policy objectives and contemporary translation practices in the EU legislative procedure and proposes an alternative source oriented approach that better serves EU policy objectives Contrary to the orthodox view in academic literature and to the current policies of the EU this book suggests that the English language version should serve as the original and only authentic legislative text Translation into the other language versions should furthermore avoid prioritizing clarity and fluency over syntactic correspondence and employ neologisms for distinctly EU legal concepts Ultimately Baaij provides practical solutions to the conflict between the equality of all language versions and the need for uniform interpretation and application of EU law
