His Good Name Christina Geisen, Jean Li, Steven B. Shubert, Kei Yamamoto, 2021-03-20 The wish to affiliate with a specific cultural social or ethnical group is as important today as it was in past societies such as that of the ancient Egyptians The same significance applies to the self presentation of an individual within such a group Although it is inevitable that we perceive ancient cultures through the lens of our time place and value systems we can certainly try to look beyond these limitations Questions of how the ancient Egyptians saw themselves and how individuals tried to establish and thus present themselves in society are central pieces of the puzzle of how we interpret this ancient culture This volume focuses on the topic of identity and self presentation tackling the subject from many different angles the ways in which social and personal identities are constructed and maintained the manipulations of culture by individuals to reflect real or aspirational identities and the methods modern scholars use to attempt to say something about ancient persons Building on the work of Ronald J Leprohon to whom this volume is dedicated contributions in this volume present an overview of our current state of understanding of patterns of identity and self presentation in ancient Egypt The contributions approach various aspects of identity and self presentation through studies of gender literature material culture mythology names and officialdom

Research Anthology on Food Waste Reduction and Alternative Diets for Food and Nutrition Security Management Association, Information Resources,2020-09-17 The world population is expected to increase exponentially within the next decade which means that the food demand will increase and so will waste production The increasing demand for food as well as changes in consumption habits have led to the greater availability and variety of food with a longer shelf life However there is a need for effective food waste management and food preservation as wasted food leads to overutilization of water and fossil fuels and increasing greenhouse gas emissions from the degradation of food The Research Anthology on Food Waste Reduction and Alternative Diets for Food and Nutrition Security explores methods for reducing waste and cutting food loss in order to help the environment and support local communities as well as solve issues including that of land space It also provides vital research on the development of plant based foods meat alternative diets and nutritional outcomes Highlighting a range of topics such as agricultural production food supply chains and sustainable diets this publication is an ideal reference source for policymakers sustainable developers politicians ecologists environmentalists corporate executives farmers and academicians seeking current research on food and nutrition security
