Instructor: Don Willard, CAMT, NAAED Faculty

Codes, laws and regulations change all the time. With so many governing bodies at the local, state and federal levels an update/refresher is always in order. This course will cover the main laws that regulate our industry. We all know that those regulations do not accept lack of knowledge of the rulings as a reason to escape the fines and violations that come from not adhering to the many rules, laws and codes. This class will cover....

- The new NEC electrical codes
- Plumbing and sanitation codes
- OSHA electrical, plumbing and safety requirements
- New HVAC and EPA requirements
- And much more

National Park Service, 1989 Guidelines for Siting and Layout of Facilities CCPS (Center for Chemical Process Safety), 2018-04-20 This book has been written to address many of the developments since the 1st Edition which have improved how companies survey and select new sites evaluate acquisitions or expand their existing facilities This book updates the appendices containing both the recommended separation distances and the checklists to help the teams obtain the information they need when locating the facility within a community when arranging the processes within the facility and when arranging the equipment within the process units Federal Register ,2014 Tongass National Forest (N.F.), Land Management Plan Revision: Environmental Impact Statement ,1997 Evaluation of Guidelines for Exposures to Technologically Enhanced Naturally Occurring Radioactive Materials Committee on Evaluation of EPA Guidelines for Exposure to Naturally Occurring Radioactive Materials, Commission on Life Sciences, Division on Earth and Life Studies, National Research Council, 1999-02-08 Naturally occurring radionuclides are found throughout the earth's crust and they form part of the natural background of radiation to which all humans are exposed Many human activities such as mining and milling of ores extraction of petroleum products use of groundwater for domestic purposes and living in houses alter the natural background of radiation either by moving naturally occurring radionuclides from inaccessible locations to locations where humans are present or by concentrating the radionuclides in the exposure environment. Such alterations of the natural environment can increase sometimes substantially radiation exposures of the public. Exposures of the public to naturally occurring radioactive materials NORM that result from human activities that alter the natural environment can be subjected to regulatory control at least to some degree. The regulation of public exposures to such technologically enhanced naturally occurring radioactive materials TENORM by the US Environmental Protection Agency EPA and other regulatory and advisory organizations is the subject of this study by the National Research Council's Committee on the Evaluation of EPA Guidelines for Exposures to Naturally Occurring Radioactive Materials.
