This volume, a tribute to Rodgers and Gardner, consists of papers originally presented at the Gathering 4 Gardner meetings. Recreational mathematics is strongly prominent with contributions from Neil Sloane, Richard Guy, Solomon Golomb, Barry Cipra, Erik Demaine, and many others. There are games and puzzles including new Nim-like games, chess puzzles, coin weighings, coin flippings, and contributions that combine art and puzzles or magic and puzzles. This book features 52 illustrations of diagrams inspired by Venn, Euler, and other notable mathematicians. While diagrams are used daily in school, at work, in social or sports activities, this simple form of visual communication is rarely explored in the art world. The book presents a progression from the classic three-circle Venn diagrams to 52 interacting shapes. It emphasizes the dynamics and aesthetic appeal of these shapes, which aim to represent ideas that may or may not be interconnected. Grounded in solid mathematical principles, the work reflects both the complexity and beauty of art and visual communication. General Mathematics Mary Potter, Hildegard R. Autistic people are empirically and scientifically generalized as living in a fragmented alternate reality without a coherent continuous self. In Part I, this book presents recent neuropsychological research and its implications for existing theories of autism, selfhood, and identity, challenging common assumptions about the formation and structure of the autistic self and autism's relationship to neurotypicality. Through several case studies in Part II, the book explores the ways in which artists diagnosed with autism have constructed their identities through participation within art communities and cultures, and how the concept of self as story can be utilized to better understand the neurological differences between autism and typical cognition.
