Automated driving has experienced a major development boost in recent years. However, most of the research and implementation has been technology driven rather than human centered. The levels of automated driving have been poorly defined and inconsistently used. A variety of application scenarios and restrictions has been ambiguous. Also, it deals with human factors, design practices and methods as well as applications such as multimodal infotainment, virtual reality, augmented reality and interactions in and outside users. This book aims at 1) providing engineers, designers and practitioners with a broad overview of the state of the art, user experience research in automated driving to speed up the implementation of automated vehicles and 2) helping researchers and students benefit from various perspectives and approaches to generate new research ideas and conduct more integrated research. Augmented Reality Brett S. Martin, 2017-07 Augmented Reality combines computer technology with real world experiences. With the use of advanced screen sensors and computer created overlays, real life environments are transformed into high tech surroundings. Correlates with STEM instruction and NexGen standards. Includes glossary, websites and bibliography for further reading. Power Electronics for Electric Vehicles and Energy Storage Dharavath Kishan, Ramani Kannan, B.
