Abstract: A review of the literature on the effects of the 1997 Asian financial crisis on the economies of the Asian countries is presented. The review is organized into three parts. The first part discusses the impact of the crisis on the real economy, the second part discusses the impact on the financial system, and the third part discusses the impact on the labor market. The review concludes that the crisis has had a significant impact on the Asian economies, and that the impact has been negative in most cases. The review also suggests that the Asian countries should take steps to prevent a similar crisis from occurring in the future.
