Kazeroony, Guy Ellis, 2013-06-19 Crises and scandals in the world of international management have brought a new spotlight onto how the subject is taught studied and understood There has been a plethora of literature on international management but a lack of focus on how international management education IME can be shaped to respond to existing and future global business challenges The Routledge Companion to International Management Education gathers together contributors from academia industry and university administration involved in IME to introduce the domain of IME describe the emerging state in new geographical areas discuss the major issues and debates revolving around IME explore the linkage of technology and international management and shed light on the future of IME The diverse background of the contributors provides a global perspective that challenges the dominant Anglo American view with up to date specific insights originating from their indigenous viewpoints which has often been neglected and inadequately covered The volume answers important questions such as Do we need a vision in IME What is the current state of IME How has IME grown in emerging market segments What roles does technology play in its recent development The volume provides thought provoking reading for educators administrators policy makers human resources professionals and researchers It will also give future international management students a glimpse of IME from a global inside out perspective International Perspectives on Transition to School Kay Margetts, Anna Kienig, 2013-06-07 With increasing attention given by governments and policy makers to children's transition to school and the associated need for educators, families and communities to be supported in the process, changes are often required to existing structures and pedagogy. This book is framed around the notion of transition as a time of change for those involved in the transition process and as a time for reconceptualising beliefs, policy and practice. It explores transition from a number of international perspectives and raises issues around the coherence of how children perceive and respond to starting school, the roles and expectations of parents, developmental changes for parents supporting children with diverse learning needs, how policy, curriculum and pedagogy are conceived and implemented. Readers will be informed about current practices and issues arising out of research in Europe, Scandinavia, the United Kingdom and Australia and will be stimulated to consider how they can change their own transition beliefs, policies and practices. Transition to school: Contemporary Perspectives and Change is essential reading for researchers and educators and anyone wanting to know more about the transition to school and how to support young children, their families and schools. Oxford Textbook of Correctional Psychiatry Professor Robert Trestman L., Professor Kenneth Appelbaum, Professor Jeffrey Metzner, 2015-02-26. Correctional psychiatry has received increasing recognition as an area of practice with unique skills and knowledge. The Oxford Textbook of Correctional Psychiatry brings together American and international experts to provide a comprehensive overview of the field. Students and psychiatric residents will find basic information that prepares them for clinical rotations and psychiatrists working in jails and prisons will find a detailed review of the complex issues that arise in these settings. The Oxford Textbook of Correctional Psychiatry contains 71 chapters divided into 14 sections. The first three sections address history, structure and processes, including chapters on case law, human rights, ethics, organization and funding of systems and stages of patient management that cover initial assessments through re-entry. The next three sections review in turn a broad array of management issues, emergencies and psychopharmacology topics. Among other topics, these sections include chapters on sleep, detoxification, reassessment of community diagnoses and treatments, diversion programs, levels of care, malingering, substance use within facilities and formulary management. Section seven has chapters on common psychiatric disorders, relevant medical disorders and pain management. Sections eight through ten focus on psychotherapeutic options, suicide risk management and addictions treatment. Chapters on aggression, self-injury and other behavioral challenges appear in Section eleven. Section twelve reviews unique assessment and treatment needs of many distinct population groups. Special topics such as forensics, psychological testing, sexual assaults, quality improvement, training and research appear in Section thirteen, followed by a section devoted to current resources in correctional healthcare. The range of topics covered and the number of prominent contributors set this book apart from other available resources. Readers at all stages of their careers will gain the depth of understanding and practical information they need to approach all of the common clinical, organizational and ethical challenges they face. Islamic Psychology G.
