Naval Studies Board Book:

Naval Studies Board 40th Anniversary National Research Council, Division on Engineering and Physical Sciences, Naval Studies Board, 2014-12-22 Forty years ago the Naval Studies Board was created at the request of then Chief of Naval Operations Admiral Elmo R Zumwalt Jr As stated in his request to the National Academy of Sciences he thought it important for the Navy to have an outside resource to which it could turn for independent and outside counsel on any area of its responsibilities involving the interplay of scientific and technical matters with other national issues Admiral Zumwalt together with Under Secretary of the Navy Honorable David S Potter and President of the National Academy of Sciences Dr Philip Handler recognized the importance of not only continuing but also focusing and strengthening the relationship that had existed between the National Academy of Sciences and the Department of the Navy since the Academy's creation in 1863 To commemorate this special anniversary Naval Studies Board 40th Anniversary provides an overview of the history mission and accomplishments of the Board In the coming years the Naval Studies Board will continue to serve as a source of independent long range scientific and technical planning advice for the nation's naval forces It will also work to ensure that the relationships between the operational science engineering and technical communities remain as strong and productive as ever to ensure that progress continues in areas most critical to meeting future naval forces needs Naval Studies Board 40th Anniversary, 2014

Naval Forces' Capability for Theater Missile Defense National Research Council, Division on Engineering and Physical Sciences, Naval Studies Board, Committee for Naval Forces' Capability for Theater Missile Defense, 2001-06-01 At the request of the Chief of Naval Operations the National Research Council under the auspices of the Naval Studies Board established a committee to assess the Department of the Navy's current and future naval theater missile defense TMD capabilities The Committee for Naval Forces Capability for Theater Missile Defense first convened in April 2000 and met approximately 2 days a month for 8 months This report is based on the information presented to the committee during that period and on the committee members accumulated experience and expertise in military operations systems and technologies

U.S. Naval Forces' Capabilities for Responding to Small Vessel Threats National Research Council, Division on Engineering and Physical Sciences, Naval Studies Board, Committee on U.S. Naval Forces' Capabilities for Responding to Small Vessel Threats, 2014-02-12 At the request of the former Chief of Naval Operations the National Research Council appointed an expert committee to examine U S Naval Forces capabilities for responding to the potential exploitation of small vessels by adversaries The Department of the Navy determined that the report prepared by the committee is classified in its entirety under Executive Order 13526 and therefore cannot be made available to the public This abbreviated report provides background information on the full report and the committee that prepared it New and Forthcoming Books National Academy Press (U.S.), 1993

The Role of Experimentation in Building Future Naval Forces National Research Council, Division on Engineering and Physical Sciences, Naval Studies Board, Committee for the Role of

Experimentation in Building Future Naval Forces,2004-12-08 The Department of Defense is in the process of transforming the nation s armed forces to meet the military challenges of the 21st century Currently the opportunity exists to carry out experiments at individual and joint service levels to facilitate this transformation Experimentation which involves a spectrum of activities including analyses war games modeling and simulation small focused experiments and large field events among other things provides the means to enhance naval and joint force development To assist the Navy in this effort the Chief of Naval Operations CNO asked the National Research Council NRC to conduct a study to examine the role of experimentation in building future naval forces to operate in the joint environment The NRC formed the Committee for the Role of Experimentation in Building Future Naval Forces to perform the study The Role of Naval Forces in the Global War on Terror National Research Council,Division on Engineering and Physical Sciences,Naval Studies Board,Committee on the Role of Naval Forces in the Global War on Terror,2007-07-12 The growth of the terrorism threat to the nation s security has created significant strategic challenges for U S armed forces in fighting this global war on terrorism GWOT For the Navy the challenges have centered on developing maritime capabilities to prosecute the GWOT as far forward as possible To assist the Navy s planning in this area the former Chief of Naval Operations requested the NRC to conduct an assessment of the adequacy of and prospects for improving the role of Naval Forces in the GWOT The study developed a defense in depth framework as the organizing principle for the report The report contains information as described in 5 U S C 552 b and therefore could not be released to the public in its entirety The public version consists of an executive summary that presents an assessment of the transformation of naval forces for addressing the GWOT a brief description of the defense in depth framework and a list of findings and major recommendations Capability Surprise for U.S. Naval Forces Committee on Capability Surprise for U.S. Naval Forces,Naval Studies Board,Division on Engineering and Physical Sciences,National Research Council,2013-12-31 A letter dated December 21 2011 to National Academy of Sciences President Dr Ralph Cicerone from the Chief of Naval Operations ADM Jonathan W Greenert U S Navy requested that the National Research Council s NRC s Naval Studies Board NSB conduct a study to examine the issues surrounding capability surprise both operationally and technically related facing the U S naval services Accordingly in February 2012 the NRC under the auspices of its NSB established the Committee on Capability Surprise for U S Naval Forces The study s terms of reference provided in Enclosure A of this interim report were formulated by the Office of the Chief of Naval Operations CNO in consultation with the NSB chair and director The terms of reference charge the committee to produce two reports over a 15 month period The present report is the first of these an interim report issued as requested following the third full committee meeting The terms of reference direct that the committee in its two reports do the following 1 Select a few potential capability surprises across the continuum from disruptive technologies to intelligence inferred capability developments through operational deployments and assess what U S Naval Forces are doing and could do about these surprises while mindful of future budgetary declines 2 Review and assess the adequacy of current U S Naval Forces policies strategies and operational and technical approaches for addressing these and other surprises and 3 Recommend any changes including budgetary and organizational changes as well as identify any barriers and or leadership issues that must be addressed for responding to or anticipating such surprises including developing some of our own surprises to mitigate against unanticipated surprises Capability Surprise for U S Naval Forces Initial Observations and Insights Interim Report highlights issues brought to the committee s attention during its first three meetings and provides initial observations and insights in response to each of the three tasks above It is very much an interim report that neither addresses in its entirety any one element of the terms of reference nor reaches final conclusions on any aspect of capability surprise for naval forces The committee will continue its study during the coming months and expects to complete by early summer 2013 its final report which will address all of the elements in the study s terms of reference and explore many potential issues of capability surprise for U S naval forces not covered in this interim report

Identification of Promising Naval Aviation Science and Technology Opportunities

National Research Council,Division on Engineering and Physical Sciences,Naval Studies Board,Committee on Identification of Promising Naval Aviation Science and Technology Opportunities,2006-04-09 The Department of Defense is developing the means to transform the nation s armed forces to meet future military challenges For the Navy and Marine Corps this vision is encompassed in Naval Power 21 Many new war fighting concepts will be needed to implement this vision and the ONR has requested the NRC to identify new science and technology opportunities for new naval aviation capabilities to support those concepts This report presents an assessment of what they imply for naval aviation an analysis of some capabilities that if developed would make a significant contribution to realizing those concepts and an identification of key technologies in which ONR could invest to achieve those capabilities In particular the report focuses on seven key capabilities multispectral defense unmanned air operations hypersonic weapons delivery fast kill weapons heavy lift air transport intelligent combat information management and omniscient intelligence

Monthly Catalog of United States Government Publications

,2002 Monthly Catalogue, United States Public Documents ,1972 Aircraft Carriers Norman Polmar,2006-09-01 Aircraft Carriers is the definitive history of world aircraft carrier development and operations Norman Polmar s revised and updated two volume classic describes the political and technological factors that influenced aircraft carrier design and construction meticulously records their operations and explains their impact on modern warfare Volume I provides a comprehensive analysis of carrier developments and warfare in the first half of the twentieth century and examines the advances that allowed the carrier to replace the battleship as the dominant naval weapons system Polmar gives particular emphasis to carrier operations from World War I through the Japanese strikes against China in the 1930s to World War II in the Atlantic Mediterranean Arctic and Pacific theaters It begins with French inventor Cl ment Ader s remarkably prescient 1909 description of an aircraft carrier The book then explains how Britain led the world in the development of aircraft carrying ships soon to be followed by the United States and Japan While ship based aircraft operations in World War I had limited impact they foreshadowed the aircraft carriers built in the 1920s and 1930s The volume also describes the aircraft operating from those ships as well as the commanders who pioneered carrier aviation Aircraft Carriers has benefited from the technical collaboration of senior carrier experts Captain Eric M Brown and General Minoru Genda as well as noted historians Robert M Langdon and Peter B Mersky Aircraft Carriers is heavily illustrated with more than 400 photographs some never before published and maps Volume II which is forthcoming from Potomac Books in the winter 2006 2007 ISBN 978 1 57488 665 8 will cover the period 1946 to the present The Politics of Maritime Power Andrew T.
