

Writing Dialogue

When writing dialogue, begin a new paragraph for each new speaker. That helps the reader to keep track of who is speaking. Be sure to enclose the actual spoken words in quotation marks.

Tag Lines and Dialogue

A phrase or tag line identifies the speaker and appears in the same paragraph as the speaker's words. Once the flow of conversation is established and it is easy to identify the speakers, the tag lines can be eliminated.

"Do you need a ride?" asked Patti, pulling up in her Jaguar beside her friend.
"Yes, I'm afraid so," said Melissa.
"My Porsche 959 has broken down."
"Hop in; I'll drive you."
"Are you sure?"

Tag lines are treated as interrupters. When they appear in the middle of quoted words, they are enclosed by two commas; if a tag line appears at the beginning or at the end of quoted material, one comma is enough because we never begin or end a sentence with a comma.

"If I don't find a ride," Melissa said, "I can't go to the Brain Bowl competition."
Patti said, "Oh, I'll drive you. Don't fret."
"You've save my life," said her friend.

Notice that if speech includes several sentences, we need quotation marks only before and after the whole speech. However, if we interrupt the group of sentences with a tag line, we close the quotation with end quotation marks and then open it again after the interruption.

"What shall I do? My car has broken down," Melissa said tearfully. "If I don't find a ride, I can't go."

A tag line may come between the two halves of a compound sentence. In that case, we put the semicolon or the joining word after said, like this:

"Hop in," Patti said, "and I'll drive you."
"Hop in," Patti said; "I'll drive you."
"The traffic looks bad," said Patti; "nevertheless, we'll make it on time."
