Today I want to tell you three stories from my life. That's it. Just three stories. The first story is about connecting the dots. I dropped out of Reed College after the first 6 months, but then stayed around as a drop-in for another 18 months before I really quit. Looking back, it was one of the best decisions I ever made. I could stop taking the required classes that didn't interest me, and begin dropping in on the ones that looked interesting.

I didn't have a dorm room, so I slept on the floor in friends' rooms. I returned Coke bottles for the 5 cent deposits to buy food with, and I would walk seven miles across town every Sunday night to get one good meal a week at the Hare Krishna temple. I loved it. And much of what I stumbled into by following my curiosity and intuition turned out to be priceless later on. Here's one

Hsc English Question Paper 2012:

Charting an Asian Trajectory for Literacy Education Su Li Chong, 2021-03-14 Weaving outwards from a centripetal force of biographical stances this book presents the collective perspectives of literacy researchers from Brunei China Hong Kong Malaysia Singapore the Philippines and Taiwan It represents the first all Asian initiative to showcase the region's post colonial multilingual and multicultural narratives of literacy education This book provides a much needed platform that initiates important conversations about literacy as a sociocultural practice in a region that is both challenged and shaped by sociocultural influence unique to Asia's historical and geopolitical trajectory Driven by the authors lived experiences of becoming literate as well as their empirical research work in later years each chapter brings decades of biographical narratives and collective empirical research findings to bear Within the book are negotiations about literacy across and within home and school contexts transactions of literature text and reader and considerations of the literacy policy practice nexus These trajectories while divergent in their issues come together as shared lived experience located in local contexts considered through global perspectives As Asia looks set to become the 21st century's new economic and labour force the need to understand the sociocultural milieu of this region cannot be understated This book on literacy education in Asia contributes to the larger narrative

Engaging Curriculum Bill Green, 2017-09-18 Explicitly linking curriculum inquiry to English education via recurring themes of representation democracy and knowledge this book is a call for both researchers and practitioners to engage with curriculum explicitly and deliberatively as both a concept and a question The approach is broadly conceptual and constitutes an exercise in theoretical and philosophical inquiry While deeply informed by North American debates and developments this book offers a distinctive counterpoint and a strategically ex centric perspective being equally informed by the curriculum scene in Australia as well as the UK and elsewhere Divided into two sections this book first addresses matters of general curriculum inquiry while the second turns more specifically to English teaching and to associated questions of language literacy and literature in L1 education Green brings the two together through a critical examination of the Australian national curriculum especially in its implications and challenges for English teaching and with due regard for the project of transnational curriculum inquiry

Knowledge-building Karl Maton, Susan Hood, Suellen Shay, 2015-10-08 Education and knowledge have never been more important to society yet research is segmented by approach methodology or topic Legitimation Code Theory or LCT extends and integrates insights from Pierre Bourdieu and Basil Bernstein to offer a framework for research and practice that overcomes segmentalism This book shows how LCT can be used to build knowledge about education and society Comprising original papers by an international and multidisciplinary group of scholars Knowledge building offers the first primer in this fast growing approach Through case studies of major research projects Part I provides practical insights into how LCT can be used to build knowledge by enabling dialogue between theory and data in qualitative research bringing together quantitative and qualitative methodologies in mixed methods research relating theory and practice in praxis conducting interdisciplinary studies with systemic functional linguistics Part II offers a series of studies of pressing issues facing knowledge building in education and beyond encompassing diverse subject areas including physics English cultural studies music and design educational sites schooling vocational education and higher education practices of research curriculum pedagogy and assessment both education and informal learning contexts such as museums and masonic lodges Carefully sequenced and interrelated these chapters form a coherent collection that gives a unique insight into one of the most thought provoking and innovative ways of building knowledge about knowledge building in education and society to have emerged this century This book is essential reading for all serious students and scholars of education sociology and linguistics

Making Sense of Mass Education Gordon Tait, Nerida Spina, Jenna Gillett-Swan, Peter O'Brien, 2023-01-10 Making Sense of Mass Education provides a contemporary analysis of the ideas and issues that have traditionally dominated education research challenging outdated preconceptions with fundamental theory and discussion It takes a demythologising approach in assessing these issues and their relevance to schooling and education in Australia This text examines the cultural context of education and the influence of external media and new technologies and highlights the many forms of discrimination in education including social class race and gender It looks at alternative approaches to education including the repercussions of gathering data to measure school performance and considers the intersection of ethics and philosophy in classroom teaching The fourth edition expands on these issues with three new chapters on sexuality children's rights and neoliberalism and the marketisation of education Each chapter challenges and breaks down common myths surrounding these topics encouraging pre service teachers to think critically and reflect on their own beliefs

Intermediation and Beyond Louise Gullifer, Jennifer Payne, 2019-01-24 The global shift from the direct holding of securities by investors to the current intermediated holding system raises many important legal issues These include the impact of the intermediated holding system on the rights of investors and the enforcement of those rights against intermediaries and issuers The cross border nature of many holding patterns adds another layer of complexity to these issues and reduces legal certainty Against this intermediation offers benefits for many investors including the ability to hold a cross border portfolio with one intermediary a reduction in costs and the facilitation of the use of securities in the collateral repo and securities lending markets This book covers a number of legal topics relating to intermediated securities including the history of intermediation the benefits and problems in the current intermediated holding system and how future legal and technological developments could help to resolve these problems while retaining the benefits of intermediation It also examines the possible impact of FinTech on this area in particular the potential for Blockchain to be used in the issuing holding and settlement of securities the extent to which this will solve some of the difficulties that currently exist and whether the use of Blockchain will create new difficulties that will need to be overcome This book which originated in a series of workshops organised by the Commercial Law Centre at Harris Manchester College Oxford will appeal to those interested in financial and corporate law including academics practitioners policy makers and students Culture and Economy in the Age of Social Media Christian Fuchs,2015-01-09 Understanding social media requires us to engage with the individual and collective meanings that diverse stakeholders and participants give to platforms It also requires us to analyse how social media companies try to make profits how and which labour creates this profit who creates social media ideologies and the conditions under which such ideologies emerge In short understanding social media means coming to grips with the relationship between culture and the economy In this thorough study Christian Fuchs one of the leading analysts of the Internet and social media delves deeply into the subject by applying the approach of cultural materialism to social media offering readers theoretical concepts contemporary examples and proposed opportunities for political intervention Culture and Economy in the Age of Social Media is the ultimate resource for anyone who wants to understand culture and the economy in an era populated by social media platforms such as Twitter Facebook and Google in the West and Weibo Renren and Baidu in the East Updating the analysis of thinkers such as Raymond Williams Karl Marx Ferruccio Rossi Landi and Dallas W Smythe for the 21st century Fuchs presents a version of Marxist cultural theory and cultural materialism that allows us to critically understand social media's influence on culture and the economy Reforming Literature

Education in Malaysia 1957 - 2020 Jia Wei Lim,2024-08-12 Lim traces the complexities in construction and implementation of a school subject namely Literature in English in Malaysia through a focused and grounded narrative where tensions regarding identity reader response and conceptualisations about literature play out in a postcolonial context The book demonstrates the need to think about school subjects as abstract concepts negotiated at various levels be it during curriculum construction or in the classroom These conceptualisations of the subject are further influenced by contemporary concerns and sociopolitical changes over time As such the scope of this book ranges from pre independence Malaysia then Malaya from the 1950s till the current phase of the subject's development in the 21st century The volume illustrates the complex interplay of historical cultural and social influences on the conceptualisation of English literature as a school subject in Malaysia Lim traces examines and interprets its development as an elective subject in the context of post secondary Malaysian education and engages with current trends in education such as internationalization and standardized assessment Lim also highlights the importance of teacher and student lived experiences to argue that personal conceptualisations of the school subject are actualized and negotiated in classroom discourse Offering unique insights into studying Literature in English in a postcolonial context the book will appeal to researchers students and practitioners in the fields of history of education curriculum reform and literature education Neoliberalism and Terror Charlotte Heath-Kelly,Christopher Baker-Beall, Lee Jarvis,2017-10-02 Terrorism and neoliberalism are connected in multiple complex and often camouflaged ways This book offers a critical exploration of some of the intersections between the two drawing on a wide range of case studies from the United States United Kingdom Brazil and the European Union Contributors to the book investigate the impact of neoliberal technologies and intellectual paradigms upon contemporary counterterrorism where the neoliberal era frames counter terrorism within an endless war against political uncertainty Others resist the notion that a separation ever existed between neoliberalism and counter terrorism These contributions explore how counterterrorism is already itself an exercise of neoliberalism which practices a form of Class War on Terror Finally other contributors investigate the representation of terrorism within contemporary cultural products such as video games in order to explore the perpetuation of neoliberal and statist agendas In doing all of this the book situates post 9 11 counter terrorism discourse and practice within much needed historical contexts including the evolution of capitalism and the state Neoliberalism and Terror will be of great interest to readers within the fields of International Relations Security Studies Terrorism Studies and beyond This book was originally published as a special issue of Critical Studies on Terrorism
