

GRAIN AND FERTILIZER FLUTED-FEED DRIVE

GENERAL INFORMATION

The grain and fertilizer fluted-feed drive consists of a drive shaft and a countershaft (the drive shaft is the lower of the two shafts).

There is a dual sprocket assembly on the drive shaft and an identical assembly on the countershaft. Each assembly consists of a 15 and a 27-tooth sprocket.

There are 42 different drive speeds available to the fertilizer feed shaft by way of the dual sprocket assemblies and the gear case.

Seed delivery is controlled by the amount of fluted-feed roll within the feed cup and the gate setting. The speed of the feed shaft is controlled by the ground speed, tire size (and inflation), and the gear combination (two possible) in the end panel.

The clutch (incorporated into the drive shaft) disengages the feed shaft when the furrow openers are raised.
