John Dollar Marianne Wiggins:

John Dollar Marianne Wiggins,1999-12 An earthquake and tidal wave sweep John Dollar Charlotte and her pupils into the violent sea They come to consciousness on the beach huddled around a paralyzed John Dollar □□□□ □□□□ Marianne Wiggins,1996 Evidence of Things Unseen Marianne Wiggins,2003 This poetic historical novel set between the world wars tells the story of an American couple and their adopted son Lightfoot Properties of Thirst Marianne Wiggins,2022-08-02 Set against the background of World War II this novel about the meaning of family and the limitations of the American dream follows rancher Rocky Rhodes as he is faced with a threat greater than the LA Water Corporation he s battled for years the building of a Japanese American internment camp next to his ranch The Shadow Catcher Marianne Wiggins,2008-06-03 Following her National Book Award finalist Evidence of Things Unseen Wiggins turns her literary imagination to the American West where the life of legendary photographer Edward S Curtis is the basis for a resonant exploration of history and family landscape and legacy Almost Heaven Marianne Wiggins,1999-12 Before his thirtieth birthday Holden Garfield has already burned out as a journalist in war torn Bosnia Returning to the United States he hopes the familiar sunshine and rolling hills of Virginia will help him put aside the horrors he reported Instead he finds Melanie his mentor s sister who is institutionalized with a mysterious amnesia after her husband and son were killed five weeks earlier by a freak force of nature Struck as if by lightning by her beauty Holden sets out to help her reconstruct her past and the pair is swept up in a passionate love affair one fighting to remember the other struggling to forget With this breakneck story of love and loss Marianne Wiggins delivers a compelling novel that is a series of powerful metaphors for the curative forces of love as well as her own personal love letter to the American South John Dollar Marianne Wiggins,1990 Women Without Men Donald J. Greiner,1993 Donald J Greiner s provocative new study evaluates the fiction of ten contemporary female novelists to ask questions about gender relations in American fiction Looking closely at the reaction of female writers to what Greiner describes as a central paradigm of American literature men bonding in the wilderness in an attempt to escape women and the social restrictions they represent Greiner contends that female novelists have not only adopted the venerable model but also adapted it so that women venture into the wilderness while excluding men from the quest Greiner first shows how such contemporary white male novelists as Frederick Busch John Irving and Larry Woiwode modify the literary model established by Cooper Melville and Twain to include women in the bonding process He then argues that recent female novelists are not so eager to allow males into the wilderness or to bond with them Rather than facilitate a closing of the gender gap many contemporary female writers insist on separating the sexes Greiner frames his analysis with discussions of prominent feminist literary theorists and feminist psychologists including Carolyn Heilbrun Rachel Brownstein Nancy Chodorow Janice Raymond and Judith Kegan Gardiner From close readings of recent novels by Gloria Naylor Marianne Wiggins Joan Didion Diane Johnson Marilynne Robinson Mona Simpson Hilma Wolitzer Meg Wolitzer Joan Chase and Lisa

Alther Greiner finds three significant differences in the way contemporary female novelists employ the quest plot the patriarchal text is not repudiated but revised to accommodate female characters who readily accept the traditional masculine call to the quest once outside the bounds of society female bonds do not always hold males are excluded from the bonding process To contrast the gender exclusivity favored by contemporary female writers Greiner ends his study with a discussion of bonding as portrayed by contemporary male novelist Douglas Ungar New York Magazine ,1989-03-06 New York magazine was born in 1968 after a run as an insert of the New York Herald Tribune and quickly made a place for itself as the trusted resource for readers across the country With award winning writing and photography covering everything from politics and food to theater and fashion the magazine s consistent mission has been to reflect back to its audience the energy and excitement of the city itself while celebrating New York as both a place and an idea Imaginary Ethnographies Gabriele Schwab,2012 Through readings of iconic figures such as the cannibal the child the alien and the posthuman Gabriele Schwab analyzes literary explorations at the boundaries of the human Treating literature as a dynamic medium that writes culture one that makes the abstract particular and local and situates us within the world Schwab pioneers a compelling approach to reading literary texts as anthropologies of the future that challenge habitual productions of meaning and knowledge Schwab s study draws on anthropology philosophy critical theory and psychoanalysis to trace literature s profound impact on the cultural imaginary Following a new interpretation of Derrida s and L vi Strauss s famous controversy over the indigenous Nambikwara Schwab explores the vicissitudes of traveling literature through novels and films that fashion a cross cultural imaginary She also examines the intricate links between colonialism cannibalism melancholia the fate of disenfranchised children under the forces of globalization and the intertwinement of property and personhood in the neoliberal imaginary Schwab concludes with an exploration of discourses on the posthuman using Samuel Beckett s The Lost Ones and its depiction of a future lived under the conditions of minimal life Drawing on a wide range of theories Schwab engages the productive intersections between literary studies and anthropology underscoring the power of literature to shape culture subjectivity and life Liminal Postmodernisms ,1994 Cannibal Fictions Jeff Berglund,2006 Objects of fear and fascination cannibals have long signified an elemental otherness an existence outside the bounds of normalcy In the American imagination the figure of the cannibal has evolved tellingly over time as Jeff Berglund shows in this study encompassing a strikingly eclectic collection of cultural literary and cinematic texts Cannibal Fictions brings together two discrete periods in U S history the years between the Civil War and World War I the high water mark in America s imperial presence and the post Vietnam era when the nation was beginning to seriously question its own global agenda Berglund shows how P T Barnum in a traveling exhibit featuring so called Fiji cannibals served up an alien other for popular consumption while Edgar Rice Burroughs in his Tarzan of the Apes series tapped into similar anxieties about the eruption of foreign elements into a homogeneous culture Turning to the last decades of the twentieth century Berglund considers how treatments of cannibalism variously perpetuated or subverted racist sexist and homophobic ideologies rooted in earlier times Fannie Flagg's novel Fried Green Tomatoes invokes cannibalism to new effect offering an explicit critique of racial gender and sexual politics an element to a large extent suppressed in the movie adaptation Recurring motifs in contemporary Native American writing suggest how Western expansion has cannibalistically laid the seeds of its own destruction And James Dobson's recent efforts to link the pro life agenda to allegations of cannibalism in China testify still further to the currency and pervasiveness of this powerful trope By highlighting practices that preclude the many from becoming one these representations of cannibalism Berglund argues call into question the comforting national narrative of e pluribus unum

Empire Islands Rebecca Weaver-Hightower, 2007 Through a detailed unpacking of the castaway genre's appeal in English literature Empire Islands forwards our understanding of the sociopsychology of British Empire Rebecca Weaver Hightower argues convincingly that by helping generations of readers to make sense of and perhaps feel better about imperial aggression the castaway story in effect enabled the expansion and maintenance of European empire Empire Islands asks why so many colonial authors chose islands as the setting for their stories of imperial adventure and why so many postcolonial writers write back to those island castaway narratives Drawing on insightful readings of works from Thomas More's Utopia to Caribbean novels like George Lamming's Water with Berries from canonical works such as Robinson Crusoe and The Tempest to the lesser known A Narrative of the Life and Astonishing Adventures of John Daniel by Ralph Morris Weaver Hightower examines themes of cannibalism piracy monstrosity imperial aggression and the concept of going native Ending with analysis of contemporary film and the role of the United States in global neoimperialism Weaver Hightower exposes how island narratives continue not only to describe but to justify colonialism Rebecca Weaver Hightower is assistant professor of English and postcolonial studies at the University of North Dakota

Beyond Coincidence Martin Plimmer, Brian King, 2013-09-10 Ever wonder what the odds are of being struck by lightning Or winning the lottery Or meeting someone from Timbuktu with the same middle name as you BEYOND COINCIDENCE recounts and analyzes over 200 amazing stories of synchronicity the likes of Laura Buxton age ten releases a balloon from her back yard It lands 140 miles away in the backyard of another Laura Buxton also age ten Two sisters in Alabama decide independently to visit the other En route their identical jeeps collide and both sisters are killed A British cavalry officer was fighting in the last year of World War One when he was knocked off his horse by a flash of lightning He was paralyzed from the waist down The man moved to Vancouver Canada where six years later while fishing in a river lightning struck him again paralyzing his right side Two years later he was sufficiently recovered to take walks in a local park when in 1930 lightning sought him out again this time permanently paralyzing him He died soon after Four years later lightning destroyed his tomb

Global Crusoe Ann Marie Fallon, 2016-04-22 Global Crusoe travels across the twentieth century globe from a Native American reservation to a Botswanan village to explore the huge variety of contemporary incarnations of Daniel Defoe s intrepid character In her study of the novels poems short stories and films that adapt the Crusoe myth Ann Marie Fallon argues that the twentieth century Crusoe is not a lone struggling survivor but a cosmopolitan figure who serves as a warning against the dangers of individual isolation and colonial oppression Fallon uses feminist and postcolonial theory to reexamine Defoe s original novel and several contemporary texts showing how writers take up the traumatic narratives of Crusoe in response to the intensifying transnational and postcolonial experiences of the second half of the twentieth century Reading texts by authors such as Nadine Gordimer Bessie Head Derek Walcott Elizabeth Bishop and J M Coetzee within their social historical and political contexts Fallon shows how contemporary revisions of the novel reveal the tensions inherent in the transnational project as people and ideas move across borders with frequency if not necessarily with ease In the novel Robinson Crusoe Crusoe s discovery of Friday s footprint fills him with such anxiety that he feels the print like an animal and burrows into his shelter Likewise modern readers and writers continue to experience a deep anxiety when confronting the narrative issues at the center of Crusoe s story

Theorising Literary Islands Ian Kinane, 2016-11-16 Theorising Literary Islands is a literary and cultural study of both how and why the trope of the island functions within contemporary popular Robinsonade narratives It traces the development of Western islandomania or our obsession with islands from its origins in Daniel Defoe s Robinson Crusoe right up to contemporary Robinsonade texts focusing predominantly on American and European representations of fictionalized Pacific Island topographies in contemporary literature film television and other media Theorising Literary Islands argues that the ubiquity of island landscapes within the popular imagination belies certain ideological and cultural anxieties and posits that the emergence of a Western popular culture tradition can largely be traced through the development of the Robinsonade genre and through early European and American fascination with the Pacific region

Rewriting Crusoe Jakub Lipski, 2020-09-17 Published in 1719 Defoe s Robinson Crusoe is one of those extraordinary literary works whose importance lies not only in the text itself but in its persistently lively afterlife German author Johann Gottfried Schnabel who in 1731 penned his own island narrative coined the term Robinsonade to characterize the genre bred by this classic and today hundreds of examples can be identified worldwide This celebratory collection of tercentenary essays testifies to the Robinsonade s endurance analyzing its various literary aesthetic philosophical and cultural implications in historical context Contributors trace the Robinsonade s roots from the eighteenth century to generic affinities in later traditions including juvenile fiction science fiction and apocalyptic fiction and finally to contemporary adaptations in film television theater and popular culture Taken together these essays convince us that the genre's adaptability to changing social and cultural circumstances explains its relevance to this day Published by Bucknell University Press Distributed worldwide by Rutgers University Press Graphic Design, New York

Steven Heller, 1992 Thirty six design firms and individual graphic designers representing an extraordinary and comprehensive cross section of New York's top design talent display their portfolios in Graphic Design New York 2 In response to this technological revolution many of the design firms create websites for both clients and themselves Almost all designers have embraced the computer age after some hesitation and use state of the art electronics in their offices And through it all design has retained its humanity rafting through this age of high technology design has simply become more accessible as you'll see from browsing through this book The Cambridge Companion to 'Robinson Crusoe' John Richetti, 2018-04-26 An instant success in its own time Daniel Defoe's The Adventures of Robinson Crusoe has for three centuries drawn readers to its archetypal hero the man surviving alone on an island This Companion begins by studying the eighteenth century literary historical and cultural contexts of Defoe's novel exploring the reasons for its immense popularity in Britain and in its colonies in America and in the wider European world Chapters from leading scholars discuss the social economic and political dimensions of Crusoe's island story before examining the after life of Robinson Crusoe from the book's multitudinous translations to its cultural migrations and transformations into other media such as film and television By considering Defoe's seminal work from a variety of critical perspectives this book provides a full understanding of the perennial fascination with and the enduring legacy of both the book and its iconic hero
