

8 GRADE 9 MACBETH RESPONSES

Exemplar 1 – The relationship of Macbeth and Lady Macbeth

Read the following extract from Act 1 Scene 7 of Macbeth. At this moment in the play, Macbeth has left the banquet he and his wife are holding for Duncan, and his wife has come to find him.

LADY MACBETH: He has almost supped. Why have you left the chamber?

MACBETH: Hath he asked for me?

LADY MACBETH: Know you not, he has?

MACBETH: 'We will proceed no further in this business.

He hath honoured me of late, and I have bought

'Golden opinions from all sorts of people,

'Which would be worn now in their newest gloss,

Not cast aside so soon.

LADY MACBETH: Was the hope drunk

'Wherein you dressed yourself? Hath it slept since?

And wakes it now to look so green and pale

As what it did so freely? From this time,

Such I account thy love. Art thou afraid

To be the same in thine own act and valour,

As thou art in desire? Wouldst thou have that

'Which thou esteem'st the ornament of life,

And live a coward in thine own esteem,

Letting I dare not wait upon I would,

Like the poor cat i'th'adage?

MACBETH: Prithee, peace.

I dare do all that may become a man;

'Who dares do more is none.

Starting with this moment in the play, explore how Shakespeare presents the marriage between Macbeth and Lady Macbeth. Write about:

- how Shakespeare presents their relationship at this moment in the play
- how Shakespeare presents their marriage in the play as a whole.

Shakespeare charts the downfall in Macbeth and Lady Macbeth's marriage to highlight how a strong and loving relationship can be ruptured when the toxic and unnatural forces of evil and unchecked ambition are introduced into it. Writing in a country still coming to terms with the aftermath of the gunpowder plot, Shakespeare's play offers a cautionary and dystopian vision of what might have happened if the planned regicide of the James I had been successful.

At the beginning of the play, the marriage appears to be stable and close. In his letter reporting on the meeting with the witches, Macbeth addresses his wife as his 'dearest partner of greatness'. This suggests their intimacy because they both seem to share the same ambition of achieving power and 'greatness'. The term of endearment 'dearest' reveals the obvious affection that Macbeth has for his wife. The noun 'partner' suggests he sees his wife as his equal in the relationship which seems to go against the patriarchal power dynamic expected within the Jacobean era. At this point in the play, Macbeth views his wife as a powerful ally who he can confide in with his innermost thoughts and desires. Macbeth appears to take as much satisfaction from the thought of his wife becoming queen as achieving the crown himself which demonstrates a selflessness and compassion. Lady Macbeth criticises this compassion in her response to the letter when she reveals her fear that Macbeth is 'without the illness' that should accompany 'ambition'. The 'illness' is a metaphor for a 'killer instinct' – a Machiavellian ability to pursue ambition ruthlessly without moral scruples. She has clearly developed an intimate knowledge of Macbeth's inner psyche and fears his inherent kindness is an obstacle that will prevent them both from achieving their shared goal of greatness.
