Migrant Care Workers Searching For New Horizons:

Migrant Care Workers Dr Karen Christensen, Dr Ingrid Guldvik, 2014-10-28 Cristensen and Guldvik's Migrant Care Workers provides insight to the historical context for public care work and shows how migration policies, general welfare and long term care policies as well as cultural differences in values in the UK and Norway set the context for how migrant care workers can realise their individual life projects. The authors discuss what might be called a new type of migrant one who is neither a victim of the divide between the global north and the global south nor someone leaving family behind but individuals using care work as a part of their own life project of potential self improvement. Migrant Care Workers

Karen Christensen, Ingrid Guldvik, 2016-04-22 In this beautifully argued book Karen Cristensen and Ingrid Guldvik provide a comparatively based insight to the historical context for public care work and show how migration policies, general welfare and long term care policies including the cash for care schemes as well as cultural differences in values in the UK and Norway set the context for how migrant care workers can realise their individual life projects. Through viewing migrants as individuals who actively construct their lives within the options and conditions they are given at any time they bring to the discussion an awareness of what might be called a new type of migrant one who is neither a victim of the divide between the global north and the global south nor someone leaving family behind but individuals using care work as a part of their own life project of potential self improvement. Decolonial Politics in European Peripheries Sanja S. Petkovska, 2023-12-12 Decolonial Politics in European Peripheries: Redefining Progressiveness, Coloniality and Transition Efforts is a timely contribution to the project of theorizing Europe through decolonial perspectives on the Left as the European and global crisis has prompted new reflections on what it means to sit still at the European peripheries. The book explores how the joint scholarship efforts of postcolonial and postsocialist scholars might come up with better grounded and more detailed theoretical and methodological insights into the process of globalization and subsequent peripheralization if framed under a progressive and leftist perspective. The authors, many from the South East Europe region, use a variety of analytical lenses to demonstrate how the nexus of postcolonial, postsocialist area studies and progressive developmental political thought could inspire changes in the future which are in dissonance with neoliberal and neoconservative capitalism. As the side effects of global capitalism continue to accelerate, scholars and activists in the postsocialist periphery are increasingly turning to the concept of decoloniality in the hope that it might offer more options on how to begin to build up their framework. This book offers numerous examples of how decolonial theory can be applied to activist work in the fight against austerity and neoliberalization as well as examples of how decolonial critique can be mobilized to contest processes of Europeanization and Euro Atlantic integration. This book will intrigue students and scholars of critical social scholarship in general as well as postsocialism and postcolonialism, critiques of right populism and the rise of white nationalism in Europe and those studying the regions of South Eastern Europe and Eurasia more generally. It will also interest activists, organizers, decision makers.

policy analysts and leftists both in the region and internationally Crossborder Care Miloslav Bahna, Martina Sekulová, 2018-09-25 This book analyses the circular migration of care workers in Central Europe using the example of Slovak carers in 24 hour care provision for the elderly in Austria Challenging analyses that focus primarily on care drain and care regimes Bahna and Sekulov supplement quantitative methodology with qualitative fieldwork to demonstrate the importance of the sending country's economic context The authors discuss the dynamics of economic differences between Austria and its post communist neighbors as preconditions of the crossborder care provision bridging analyses of policy and legal frameworks with approaches from labor migration study Even as they scrutinize the relevance of care drain based analyses Bahna and Sekulov bring to the fore the interplay of economic differences social policies gender and migration regimes with geographic proximity to study long term impacts of care work including an analysis of employment after care work The Routledge Handbook of Social Care Work Around the World Karen Christensen, Doria Pilling, 2017-12-22 The Routledge Handbook of Social Care Work Around the World provides both a comprehensive and authoritative state of the art review of the current research in this subject It is the first handbook to cover social care work research from around the world including both low and middle income countries as well as high income countries Each of the 22 chapters are written by experts on long term care services particularly for older people and cover key issues and debates based on research evidence on social care work in a specific country They look at perspectives of social care work from the macro level the structural conditions for long term care including demographic challenges and the long term care policy the meso level the level of provider organizations and intermediaries and the micro level views of care workers care users and unpaid informal carers Furthermore they discuss a number of topics central to discussions of care work including marketization personalization policies policy implementation under austerity the provision of social care work whether through public services or private arrangements or mixed types funding the feminization of social care and the new role that technology and robots can play in care work By drawing together leading scholars from around the world this book provides an up to the minute snapshot of current scholarship as well as signposting several fruitful avenues for future research This book is both an invaluable resource for scholars and an indispensable teaching tool for use in the classroom and will be of interest to students academics social workers social policy makers and human service professionals Racialised Workers and European Older-Age Care Nina Sahraoui, 2019-07-10 In the context of ageing populations increasing participation of women in the labour market growing marketisation of care provision and most importantly global inequalities racialised care workers have come to fulfil a key role within older age care in western European societies This book presents a gendered political economy of migrant and minority ethnic care workers experiences in older age care in London Paris and Madrid Its cross national comparative approach allows for a differentiated analysis of the workings of migration employment and care regimes in three capital cities with similarly segmented care sectors yet diverse policies and implications for care workers

Sahraoui provides a novel perspective that advances debates on the ethics of care by foregrounding the voices of racialised care workers and contributing to feminist moral philosophy Racialised Workers and European Older Age Care offers unique insights into the meanings of care labour and the challenges arising from processes of neoliberal marketisation precarisation and institutional racism The book sketches out an intersectional understanding of the exploitative relationships on which care and social reproduction currently rely and demonstrates why it matters to move care from the margins of society to its centre This innovative and compelling analysis will appeal to students and scholars of Anthropology Sociology Political Science and Social Policy as well as those working in the interdisciplinary sub fields of Gender Migration Labour and Racism Studies

The Oxford Handbook of Family Policy Over the Life Course Mary Daly,Birgit Pfau-Effinger,Neil Gilbert,Douglas J. Besharov,2023 Drawing on a multidisciplinary group of experts from many countries this Handbook is intended to be a reference work that provides students and scholars in policy related disciplines a wide ranging perspective on the diverse ways that family policies respond to modern issues and trends over the life course The Handbook is divided into two main parts The first part offers a panoramic introduction to the setting and issues which contemporary family policies have been designed to address The second part and main body of the volume is organized around four benchmark periods that encompass the main stages of the family life cycle and social policies that are called into play during these stages

Transnational Social Work Bartley, Allen,Beddoe, Liz,2018-02-07 An international comparison of labour markets migrant professionals and immigration policies and their interaction in relation to social work

Support Work Relationships Deborah Luise Lutz,2020-03-03 Deborah Luise Lutz explores support work relationships the relationships between people with intellectual disabilities in receipt of a personal budget and their support workers Through the methodology of Institutional Ethnography she specifically investigates how personal budget policies that organize support work in Germany and Australia influence support work relationships She found that the policies of personal budgets are connected to people s views and expectations about the support work relationship and the support work context that influence the relationship The author argues that disability research policy and practice need to be cognisant of this interconnection to improve the quality of support work relationships

Overlapping Inequalities in the Welfare State Başak Akkan,Julia Hahmann,Christine Hunner-Kreisel,Melanie Kuhn,2024-06-18 The volume stresses the relevance of the intersectionality framework in welfare state analysis by examining overlapping inequalities within the shifting institutional boundaries and organisational processes across diverse welfare settings The volume explores the strengths and challenges of theoretical and methodological approaches to intersectionality addressing its spatial temporal and comparative dimensions It therefore adopts a critical and process focused approach while recognising the agency of individuals as subjects of state policies The contributions critically build the link between intersectionality and other theoretical frameworks and research paradigms including Marxist social reproduction theory critical race studies Bourdieuan analysis of class critical geography childhood queer migration and disability studies The contributions provide insights into the institutional realms of health education social services and care work and examine state practices of racial profiling and policing in distinct welfare states Overall the contributions illustrate the strengths of the intersectionality framework in empirical inquiries while providing critical reflections on its limitations Readers across a diverse array of social science disciplines will find this book valuable
