Heritage and the Making of Political Legitimacy in Laos

Phill Wilcox, 2025-10-01 The Lao People's Democratic Republic is nearly fifty years old and one of the few surviving one party socialist states. Nearly five decades on from its revolutionary birth the Lao population continues to build futures in and around a political landscape that maintains socialist rhetoric on the one hand and capitalist economics on the other. Contemporary Lao politics is marked by the use of cultural heritage as a source of political legitimacy. Researched through long term detailed ethnography in the former royal capital of Luang Prabang itself a UNESCO recognized World Heritage Site since 1995 this book takes a fresh look at issues of legitimacy heritage and national identity for different members of the Lao population. It argues that the political system has become sufficiently embedded to avoid imminent risk of collapse but suggests that it is facing new challenges primarily in the form of rising Chinese influence in Laos. Department of the Army Pamphlet, 1972

Red Stamps and Gold Stars Sarah Turner, 2013-05-15 In the late 1970s and 80s socialist countries in Asia began reopening their borders to overseas scholars. Today a growing number of social scientists are embarking on fieldwork in China, Vietnam and Laos. Red Stamps and Gold Stars brings together all the messiness, compromise and ethical dilemmas that underscore fieldwork in upland socialist Asia and elsewhere in the Global South. The volume's contributors, accomplished geographers, anthropologists and ethnohistorians, foreground the importance of questioning one's subjective gaze and of debating representations of the other. Reflecting on the realities of fieldwork in socialist regimes and analyzing their positionality and subjectivity in the field, they debate a range of ethical quandaries and the rewards that can be gained from critical reflection. Together these unique contributions will advance the study of the practice of international fieldwork.

The Routledge International Handbook of Language Education Policy in Asia Andy Kirkpatrick, Anthony J. Liddicoat, 2019-04-17 This must have handbook offers a comprehensive survey of the field. It reviews the language education policies of Asia encompassing 30 countries, sub-divided by regions, namely East, Southeast, South and Central Asia, and considers the extent to which these are being implemented and with what effect. The most recent iteration of language education policies of each of the countries is described and the impact and potential consequence of any change is critically considered. Each country chapter provides a historical overview of the languages in use and language education policies, examines the ideologies underpinning the language choices and includes an account of the debates and controversies surrounding language and language education policies, before concluding with some predictions for the future.
