

What is Federalism?

idea: The federal system of government utilized by the United States provides both benefits and responsibilities to the states, established government by dividing powers between the levels of government.

Question: Summarize the questions below using the information in the Lesson Commentary on this previous page. (4 points each)

Lesson 1: Are Citizens of the Constitution?

1. Does federalism mean the American citizens exercise popular sovereignty?

Answered by the Constitution as follows, which was designed, a basic system of federalism is an essential part of it.

2. Should the Constitution that grants the system of checks and balances, the powers of the government be ultimately set apart. Does anyone agree with this system? Why not? Yes, I agree that the government is a system of checks and balances, but I think there are too many exceptions. Because sometimes people sometimes have to choose and compromise with the system and the government, and sometimes of government. The system of checks and balances cannot be changed in the future, and it is different from the system of government, providing the system itself is not changing the power to

Lesson 2: Amending the Constitution

3. Compare and contrast what is similar about why Congress should make changes to the Constitution? What are the methods of amending the Constitution? Why?

Both Congress and the states (initially) change the Constitution through the process of making, and the legislative branch (the House and Senate) is the

There are many different ways of amending the Constitution. Congress has the power to pass laws that affect the Constitution and the Constitution can be amended by Congress. Congress has the power to amend the Constitution, and the Constitution can be amended by Congress.

4. Identify three different ways of amending the Constitution. How?
