Read, Talk, Write Laura Robb, 2016-09-16 This book reminds us why Laura Robb continues to be such an important voice in our field. She looks through kids' eyes and sees into their futures. Literary conversations don't just enrich kids' days; they offer young people gifts that keep on giving: the ability to take risks, exercise creativity, build empathy, and develop the ability to negotiate. From the foreword by Harvey Smokey Daniels: When you get right down to it, literacy comes down to this: read, talk, write. But as every teacher knows, it can be hard for students to see and use these three moves in concert until now. In Read, Talk, Write, Laura Robb lays out the classroom structures that create the time and space for students to have productive talk and written discourse about texts. With Laura's guidance, you'll use short texts by Seymour Simon, Kathleen Krull, Priscilla Cummings, and other popular fiction and nonfiction authors to teach students how to analyze and converse about texts. Incorporate six kinds of talk into your instruction, including turn and talk, partner talks, and small group discussions. Use the wealth of in-book and online reproducibles to help students facilitate their own comprehension-building discussions. Select from 35 lessons that address literary elements and devices, text structures, and comprehension strategies, and then use them to launch student-led talk about any text you teach. Help your readers get in a read-talk-write flow and know how to move from reading to talking to writing to bring about deeper thinking. Achieve high levels of performance around inferring, comparing, and contrasting, summarizing, and synthesizing, and other key skills by way of classroom conversations that make these advanced levels the norm.

Resources in Education, 1998 Close Reading Literature Activities for Grades 4-8 Fiction, 2014-06-01 Students analyze three popular novels using key skills from the Common Core. Close reading of the text is required to answer text-dependent questions. Included are student pages with the text-dependent questions as well as suggested answers.

Literacy and Learning in the Content Areas Sharon Kane, 2017-07-05 The 3rd Edition of Literacy Learning in the Content Areas helps readers build the knowledge, motivation, tools, and confidence they need as they integrate literacy into their middle and high school content area classrooms. Its unique approach to teaching content area literacy actively engages preservice and practicing teachers in reading and writing and the very activities that they will use to teach literacy to their own students in middle and high school classrooms. Rather than passively learning about strategies for incorporating content area literacy activities, readers get hands-on experience in such techniques as mapping webbing anticipation guides booktalks class websites and journal writing and reflection Readers also learn how to integrate children s and young adult literature primary sources biographies essays poetry and online content communities and websites into their classrooms Each chapter offers concrete teaching examples and practical suggestions to help make literacy relevant to students content area learning Author Sharon Kane demonstrates how relevant reading writing speaking listening and visual learning activities can improve learning in content area subjects and at the same time help readers meet national content knowledge standards and benchmarks
