Global Competitiveness Report Davos:

The global competitiveness report 2009-2010 Klaus Schwab, 2009 The Global Competitiveness Report 2008-2009 Klaus Schwab, 2008 The Global Competitiveness Report 2003-2004 World Economic Forum, 2004

The Global Competitiveness Report 2003-2004 is the 24th of the World Economic Forum's annual rankings of the world's leading economies. Written in a non-technical language and style, this report aims to appeal to a broad audience consisting of policy makers, business leaders, and academics. ICICKM 2015-12th International Conference on Intellectual Capital Knowledge Management & Organisational Learning Vincent Ribi re and Lugkana Worasinchai, 2015-10-20 The World Economic Forum Geoffrey Allen Pigman, 2007-01-24

This book explores the paradoxes and unique characteristics of the World Economic Forum, highlighting contemporary issues and debates on global governance, economic development, and corporate social responsibility. The Forum is one of the most influential but least understood global institutions. Its annual meeting in Davos, Switzerland, and its regional summits held around the world attract a significant and powerful audience from the worlds of business, economics, politics, and civil society. The participants, who include business and political leaders, representatives of international institutions and civil society organizations, academia, and the media, meet to debate issues of global concern and to develop possible solutions. Forum members see the organization as an innovative venue bringing together different types of stakeholders to solve global problems. To its critics, however, the Forum's public face conceals a private venue for making business deals. With clear and concise sections, including boxes containing key ideas and arguments, The World Economic Forum is a much needed introduction to an important and controversial organization and will be of considerable interest to students and practitioners of international business, international political economy, economics, development, international relations, and globalization. Global View on the World Economy Horst Siebert, 2007-06-11

As globalization continues, space, market segmentations, distance, and the boundaries between nation states are becoming increasingly blurred. National economies are closely interlinked through many channels, and we rarely view things from a single country's view; adopting a global perspective instead. It is therefore imperative to understand how the world economy functions. This book utilizes up-to-date empirical evidence to illuminate the mechanics of the world as a single entity. The author explores the properties of the world economy, the diverse mechanisms of interdependence, shocks, and disturbances, economic processes and structures, and the institutional arrangements that guide these processes. Key topics covered include world GDP growth and global product and factor markets, China as a new global player, the roots and impact of financial and currency crises, the performance of the developing countries over time, which have gained which have lost, conflicts between the national interest and global concerns, protectionism, locational competition for mobile factors of production, environmental issues, the institutional arrangements for the world economy, IMF, WTO, The World Economy A Global Analysis will be essential reading for students studying the world economy from the perspective of economics, finance, business and politics The Mexico Competitiveness Report 2009 , The World Economy Horst Siebert,2007

Suitable for upper level undergraduate and postgraduate courses in international economics this book explores various issues including the fortunes of the international stock market the impact of the Iraq war and the rise of China and India as economic powers Encyclopedia Of The Global Economy A Guide For Students And Researchers David E. sustainability and development indeed it actively complements them in some cases contradicts them but also completes them Resilience as a societal factor involves all sectors such as politics the economy science and civil society and thus represents an indispensable frame of reference in the overarching recent debate on the learning society Fathi analyzes the still little tapped topic of societal resilience from entirely new perspectives and with a stimulating thematic breadth A must read for anyone who wants to grasp this topic holistically Prof Dr Uwe Schneidewind America and the World, 1898-2025 NA,2016-04-30 This book surveys US achievements and failures in the world across the 20th century The analysis builds upon surveys of experts at the Woodrow Wilson International Center for Scholars and several universities conducted over the last 25 years The reasons for success and failure are subject to hot dispute Walter Clemens argues that the individual traits of US leaders account for far more variation in outcomes than the domestic or international contexts He concludes that the policy outcomes of the past century confirm the assumptions of mutual gain theory complexity theory and liberal peace theory Clemens then uses his analysis to sketch alternative futures that could face planners in the early 21st century The Limits of Neoliberalism William Davies,2016-11-16 Brilliant explains how the rhetoric of competition has invaded almost every domain of our existence Evgeny Morozov author of To Save Everything Click Here In this fascinating book Davies inverts the conventional neoliberal practice of treating politics as if it were mere epiphenomenon of market theory demonstrating that their version of economics is far better understood as the pursuit of politics by other means Professor Philip Mirowski University of Notre Dame A sparkling original and provocative analysis of neoliberalism It offers a distinctive account of the diverse sometimes contradictory conventions and justifications that lend authority to the extension of the spirit of competitiveness to all spheres of social life This book breaks new ground offers new modes of critique and points to post neoliberal futures Professor Bob Jessop University of Lancaster Since its intellectual inception in the 1930s and its political emergence in the 1970s neo liberalism has sought to disenchant politics by replacing it with economics This agenda setting text examines the efforts and failures of economic experts to make government and public life amenable to measurement and to re model society and state in terms of competition In particular it explores the practical use of economic techniques and conventions by policy makers politicians regulators and judges and how these practices are being adapted to the perceived failings of the neoliberal model By picking apart the defining contradiction that arises from the conflation of economics and politics this book asks to what extent can economics provide government legitimacy Now with a new preface from the author and a foreword by Aditya Chakraborty Challenging Global Finance Elizabeth Friesen,2012-01-25 Friesen demonstrates how transnational CSOs and NGOs can influence the context in which international political decisions are made She shows how by reframing the issues the transnational campaign for the cancellation of third world debt altered the dominant discourse shifted the agenda and thereby shaped political outcomes Rebalancing for Sustainable Growth Masahiro Kawai,Jong-Wha Lee,2015-04-30 The Asian model of export led growth served it well in the post war period but prolonged sluggish growth of the developed economies following the global financial crisis together with growing inequality and rising environmental problems point to the need for a new growth model. The purpose of this book is to describe the challenges facing Asian economies in the post global financial crisis environment and to identify structural issues and policies that can help guide Asian policymakers to expand the growth potential of domestic and regional demand in coming years and thereby create a basis for balanced sustainable and inclusive long term growth. These issues and policies span a variety of dimensions including macroeconomic policy, monetary, fiscal and foreign currency management, real sector issues, trade and industrial structure, infrastructure development, labor market and social policy, financial sector reform and regulation and regional cooperation and architecture. Key recommendations to achieve these goals include measures to deepen social protection to support social resilience, increase infrastructure investment to create a seamless Asia, enhance productivity in the services sector, establish a region wide free trade agreement to encourage intraregional trade in goods and services and investment through economies of scale and dynamic efficiency of a larger market, promote a shift to a low carbon society and support green growth and deepen and integrate financial markets to facilitate the recycling of Asia's high savings for investment within the region.
