The Corporation as a Protagonist in Global History, c. 1550-1750, 2018-12-10 William A Pettigrew and David Veevers put forward a new interpretation of the role Europe's overseas corporations played in early modern global history recasting them from vehicles of national expansion to significant forces of global integration Across the Mediterranean Atlantic Indian Ocean and Pacific corporations provided a truly global framework for facilitating the circulation movement and exchange between and amongst European and non European communities bringing them directly into dialogue often for the first time Usually understood as imperial or colonial commercial enterprises The Corporation as a Protagonist in Global History reveals the unique global sociology of overseas corporations to provide a new global history in which non Europeans emerged as key stakeholders in European overseas enterprises in the early modern world Contributors include Michael D Bennett Aske Laursen Brock Liam D Haydon Lisa Hellman Leonard Hodges Emily Mann Simon Mills Chris Nierstrasz Edgar Pereira Edmond Smith Haig Smith and Anna Winterbottom

Solutions Winfried F. Schmitz, 2016-09-21 Dealing with radical Islamist ideologies successfully is one of the big challenges of our time This book is analyzing major causes of the ideology of al Qaeda and of Iran both often described as evil It offers solutions to mitigate the violence of radical Islamist ideologies and eventually to dissolve them It shows that the ideology of al Qaeda is very much rooted in the Israeli Palestinian conflict With respect to Iran it highlights the fact that the event of the overthrow of the democratically elected prime minister of Iran Mohammad Mossadegh and the destruction of the young Iranian democracy by the CIA in 1953 is the most important reason for the severe mistrust and the hostilities of Iran towards the United States This book concludes among others that a comprehensive peace between Israel and the Palestinians is a requirement to significantly mitigate the violence of radical Islamist ideologies This needs to go hand in hand with strengthening the condemnation of the distorted religious ideology of al Qaeda and ISIL by religious authorities of Islam

A Global History of Runaways Marcus Rediker,Titas Chakraborty,Matthias van Rossum,2019-07-30 During global capitalism s long ascent from 1600 1850 workers of all kinds slaves indentured servants convicts domestic workers soldiers and sailors repeatedly ran away from their masters and bosses with profound effects A Global History of Runaways edited by Marcus Rediker Titas Chakraborty and Matthias van Rossum compares and connects runaways in the British Danish Dutch French Mughal Portuguese and American empires Together these essays show how capitalism required vast numbers of mobile workers who would build the foundations of a new economic order At the same time these laborers challenged that order from the undermining of Danish colonization in the seventeenth century to the igniting of civil war in the United States in the nineteenth

Beyond Greenwash Hamish van der Ven,2019-03-21 From green frogs and blue angels to white bunnies modern consumers are confronted by a growing array of colorful eco labels on everything from coffee to computers. When eco labels are credible they can lead to dramatic change in environmental practices broadly and quickly by leveraging the purchasing power of corporate clients e.g. Walmart and McDonalds to influence global supply chains. But the credibility of such labels is highly variable and despite the existence of established practices for eco labeling many labels remain little more than superficial exercises in greenwash. How can consumers separate greenwash from genuine attempts to address environmental challenges? Beyond Greenwash addresses this question by systematically investigating the credibility of transnational eco labeling organizations across countries and commercial sectors. Using an innovative proxy measure for credibility that examines adherence to established best practices, Hamish van der Ven proposes a novel theory of rigor and credibility in transnational eco labeling that upends conventional wisdom. He argues that the credibility of an eco label does not depend on who creates or manages it, whether a government, industry association, professional standard setter, or environmental NGO. Rather, it depends on which types of businesses use the label. More specifically, eco labeling organizations that target bigger consumer-facing retailers tend to create credible eco labels out of a desire to insulate their clients from critical scrutiny and gain acceptance in new markets. This theory challenges the conventional wisdom that only governments or environmental NGOs can create meaningful environmental governance and suggests that who is being governed matters as much, if not more than, who is doing the governing.

Global Legislation for Food Contact Materials J.S. Baughan, 2015-04-09. Food contact materials such as packaging, storage containers, and processing surfaces can pose a substantial hazard to both food manufacturer and consumer due to the migration of chemicals or other substances from the material to the food, which can cause tainting of flavours and other sensory characteristics or even illness. This book reviews the main materials used for food contact in terms of the global legislation in place to ensure their safe and effective use. Part One provides an overview of food contact legislation issues such as chemical migration and compliance testing. Part Two looks in detail at the legislation for specific food contact materials and their advantages, hazards, and use in industry. Includes global coverage of food contact legislation. Features expert analysis of future trends in global food packaging regulation. Focus on specific materials such as plastic, paper, and rubber materials in contact with food.

21st-Century Narratives of World History R. Charles Weller, 2017-11-06. This book makes a unique and timely contribution to world/global historical studies and related fields. It places essential world historical frameworks by top scholars in the field today in clear, direct relation to and conversation with one another, offering them opportunity to enrich, elucidate, and at times challenge one another. It thereby aims to: 1) offer world historians opportunity to critically reflect upon and refine their essential interpretational frameworks; 2) facilitate more effective and nuanced teaching and learning in and beyond the classroom; 3) provide accessible world historical contexts for specialized areas of historical as well as other fields of research in the humanities, social sciences, and sciences; and 4) promote comparative historiographical critique which helps identify continuing research questions for the field of world history in particular, as well as further global peace and dialogue in relation to varying views of our ever increasingly interconnected interdependent multicultural and globalized world and its shared though diverse and sometimes contested history
