The World Naval Review is intended to make interesting reading as well as providing authoritative reference so there is a strong visual emphasis including specially commissioned drawings and the most up to date photographs and artists impressions. For anyone with an interest in contemporary naval affairs whether an enthusiast or a defense professional this annual has become required reading. An extraordinarily useful annual from the point of view of a comprehensive update on the world's navies a key resource for keeping up whether in cabin or armchair.

Seaweed Code of Safety for Special Purpose Ships, 2008 (2008 SPS Code) International Maritime Organization, 2008. The 2008 SPS Code supersedes the SPS Code adopted by resolution A 534 13 for special purpose ships certified on or after 13 May 2008. For special purpose ships certified before that date the previous SPS Code resolution A 534 13 still applies.

Responses to Sea Migration and the Rule of Law Katia Bianchini, 2024-08-22. In the current debates on sea migration there is a dearth of works drawing on the rule of law. This important book addresses this failing. Considering the question from that conceptual framework it is able to broaden the sometimes fragmented and incomplete perspective of existing scholarship. The book takes as its central case study the experience of Italy exploring the legal issues at play there and its institutional practices and policies. From here its focus broadens out to the wider EU experience looking in particular at those problems common to southern EU states such as failures and delays in assisting migrants in distress at sea and contested legal grounds and practices concerning interceptions at sea. It combines both legal and empirical data charting both the black letter law and how it operates in practice. In a field as complex as this this clarity is key. It allows lawyers political scientists and policymakers to truly engage with the challenges sea migration poses today.

Handbook on Drowning Joost J.L.M. Bierens, 2006-02-08 by Jan Carel van Dorp

The board of Governors of the Maatschappij tot Redding van Drenkelingen is happy to introduce this congress book the fruit of much effort in recent years of many devoted researchers in the fields of prevention rescue and treatment of drowned people It is a compilation of the results of their successful studies as laid down during the World Congress on Drowning held in Amsterdam on 26-28 June 2002

Background Through the ages death by drowning like so many other causes was accepted as a part of life Water brings life water takes life burial follows It was not until the 17th or even as late as the 18th century that it became apparent that people could be effectively rescued by bystanders that many seemingly dead drowning victims only died after burial and that some of them could have been saved from this fate had they received medical attention In Europe it was the so called Age of Enlightenment with changing attitudes towards fellow man and social initiatives underway including the founding of charitable societies At that time three noblemen in Amsterdam realised that too many victims who had fallen in the waters of Amsterdam were left to their fate and died Hence in 1767 they founded a society for the rescue of drowning victims de Maatschappij tot Redding van Drenkelingen Their initiative was widely applauded In the years that followed other cities in Holland started their own initiatives
