Course Description:

Business and management is the rigorous and critical study of the ways in which individuals and groups interact in a dynamic business environment. It is an academic discipline that examines how business decisions are made and how these decisions make an impact on internal and external environments. The ideals of international cooperation and responsible citizenship are at the heart of business and management.

The IBO Business and Management program is designed to give you an understanding of business principles, practices, and skills. Emphasis is also placed on understanding technical innovation and day-to-day business functions of operations management, marketing, human resource management, and finance. However, a fundamental feature of this program is the concept of synergy. In its technical sense, it is a concept that means an organization should seek an over-all return greater than the sum of its parts. Applied to the Business and Management program, it necessitates a style of teaching and learning based on integrating and linking the various modules to give you a holistic overview by the end of this course.

Lastly, students will translate concepts, skills and knowledge into real-world applications in the business environment in order for students to develop into knowledgeable, caring young people who will have inquiring minds that build intercultural understanding.

the world today We live in a world where dramatic shifts in the domestic and global economy command the headlines from rollbacks in US banking regulations to tariffs that may ignite international trade wars But current events have deep roots and the key to navigating today's roiling policies lies in the events that started it all the 2008 economic crisis and its aftermath Despite initial attempts to downplay the crisis as a local incident what happened on Wall Street beginning in 2008 was in fact a dramatic caesura of global significance that spiraled around the world from the financial markets of the UK and Europe to the factories and dockyards of Asia the Middle East and Latin America forcing a rearrangement of global governance With a historian's eye for detail connection and consequence Adam Tooze brings the story right up to today's negotiations actions and threats a much needed perspective on a global catastrophe and its long term consequences The Palgrave place of women defendants in contemporary international criminal law beyond the construction of women as victims and asks what the analysis of women perpetrators defendants and suspects reveals about international criminal law the media and feminism The book uses the topic of women perpetrators defendants and suspects as a way to explore the concept of legal subjectivity via a gender analysis It highlights how women perpetrators defendants and suspects are constituted through three spheres namely the areas of international criminal law the media and feminism In examining the relationship between women perpetrators defendants and suspects and each of these spheres the book exposes embedded gender biases and structural gender fractures These reveal that problematic assumptions about how gender operates in conflict are embedded in the very foundations of legal imaginations Ultimately the book argues that this has far reaching consequences beyond its impact on current understandings of armed conflict Rather these assumptions should be a concern for us all even in times of peace This book will be of use to legal academics and practitioners interested in gender within international criminal law as well as those concerned with contemporary feminist approaches to law Bihar and Mithila J. Rorabacher, 2016-09-13 The world has become obsessed with the Western notions of progress development and globalization the latter a form of human and economic homogenization These processes through the aegis of the United Nations are comparatively monitored Those nations deemed to be lagging behind are then provided with foreign aid and developmental assistance For nearly seventy years India has sought its place in this global endeavour yet even today abject poverty and backwardness can be observed in districts in almost every state with the highest concentration of such districts found in the state of Bihar and a cultural enclave known as Mithila Development in India has been elusive because it is difficult to define and because the Western concepts of development and progress have no absolute equivalents within many non Western settings As a consequence development programmes often fail because they are unable to ask the right questions but equally important is the political economy derived from foreign aid For politicians there is no long term benefit to be derived from successful development In general foreign aid only serves to corrupt governments and politicians and in the end does very little for those who need help The struggling states of Bihar and Mithila serve as extreme examples of India s problems Development here has been thwarted by a hereditary landed aristocracy supported by religion casteism custom social stratification tradition and patterns of behaviour that can be traced back millennia In turn all these have been masterfully manipulated by co opted politicians who have turned politics into a veritable art form as this volume comprehensively demonstrates Introducing the IB Diploma Programme Marc Abrioux,Jill Rutherford,2013-02-14 Schools wishing to introduce the IB diploma programme are faced with major investment in terms of time effort and money in order to become authorised This manual is a resource for schools already offering the diploma as well as for prospective diploma schools
