Language And Translation In Postcolonial Literatures:

Language and Translation in Postcolonial Literatures Simona Bertacco, 2013-12-17 This collection gathers together a stellar group of contributors offering innovative perspectives on the issues of language and translation in postcolonial studies. In a world where bi and multilingualism have become quite normal, this volume identifies a gap in the critical apparatus in postcolonial studies in order to read cultural texts emerging out of multilingual contexts. The role of translation and an awareness of the multilingual spaces in which many postcolonial texts are written are fundamental issues with which postcolonial studies needs to engage in a far more concerted fashion. The essays in this book by contributors from Australia, New Zealand, Zimbabwe, Cyprus, Malaysia, Quebec, Ireland, France, Scotland, the US, and Italy outline a pragmatics of language and translation of value to scholars with an interest in the changing forms of literature and culture in our times. Essay topics include multilingual textual politics, the benefits of multilingual education in postcolonial countries, the language of gender and sexuality in postcolonial literatures, translational cities, postcolonial calligraphy, globalization, and the new digital ecology.

Editor), Harish Trivedi, 2012-10-12 This outstanding collection brings together eminent contributors from Britain, the US, Brazil, India, and Canada to examine crucial interconnections between postcolonial theory and translation studies. Examining the relationships between language and power across cultural boundaries, this collection reveals the vital role of translation in redefining the meanings of culture and ethnic identity. The essay topics include links between centre and margins, intellectual transfer, shifts in translation practice from colonial to postcolonial societies, translation and power relations in Indian languages, Brazilian cannibalistic theories in literary transfer.
