Improving Primary Mathematics Education, Teaching and Learning Mellony Graven, Hamsa Venkat, 2017-01-19 This book focuses on how to improve the teaching and learning of primary level mathematics education within resource constrained contexts. It builds on two large numeracy projects within South Africa which speak to broader global concerns and highlight how research and development not only enables one to meet ethical imperatives but also explore how further interventions can be developed. Teacher and research communities must work together to create mutually beneficial relationships and establish a cohesive understanding of the requirements of primary mathematics education. Early mathematics counts

Yasmin A Sitabkhan, Linda Platas, 2018-07-23 This occasional paper examines common instructional strategies in early grade mathematics interventions through a review of studies in classrooms in low and middle income countries. Twenty four studies met the criteria for inclusion and analyses reveal four sets of instructional strategies for which there is evidence from multiple contexts. Of the 24 studies 16 involved the use of multiple representations 10 involved the use of developmental progressions 6 included supporting student use of explanation and justification and 5 included integration of informal mathematics. Based on the review we provide conclusions and recommendations for future research and policy. Drum

, 2006 The Education Triple Cocktail Brahm Fleisch, 2018-08-15 The Education Triple Cocktail brings together rigorous quantitative and qualitative research on a new approach to improving foundational teaching and learning for schoolchildren living in working class poor and remote rural communities in resource constrained systems like South Africa. At the core of this book is the theory and evidence for a powerful new interlocking and mutually reinforcing change model. Inspired by the AIDS treatment story the three pronged approach of structured daily lesson plans appropriate and high quality educational materials and one on one instructional coaching to help teachers transform their instructional practices in early grade classrooms shows that it will improve learning outcomes. For education systems defined by low levels of early grade learning and profoundly unequal outcomes The Education Triple Cocktail offers a theoretically informed evidence based way forward. This book will be of immense use to teachers students of Education policymakers and parents. Marking Matric Vijay

Reddy, 2006 The past ten years in South Africa has seen many changes in education the creation of a single department of education common examinations for all learners in public schools in the country a new outcomes based education curriculum which was introduced to learners in the general education and training phase since 1998 and will be introduced to the further education and training phase from 2006. To evaluate the success of these changes South African researchers still use the indicator of student achievement. The matriculation examination is the visible high profile and public performance indicator. Every year parents learners teachers researchers government officials policymakers and the general public get involved in the debate around the matric examination with the most frequently asked questions being Did the pass rate go up Are standards dropping Are the results real or have they been manipulated How is our education system doing Are we comparable to OECD countries as a percent of GDP and exceeds that of most peer sub Saharan African countries in per capita terms The main explanatory factors are complex and multifaceted and are associated with insufficient subject knowledge of some teachers history race language geographic location and socio economic status Low educational achievement contributes to low productivity growth and high levels of poverty unemployment and inequality Drawing on the literature the paper sketches some policy considerations to guide the debate on what works and what does not

Psychological Assessment in South Africa Sumaya Laher, Kate Cockcroft, 2013-01-01 This book provides an overview of the research related to psychological assessment across South Africa The thirty six chapters provide a combination of psychometric theory and practical assessment applications in order to combine the currently disparate research that has been conducted locally in this field Existing South African texts on psychological assessment are predominantly academic textbooks that explain psychometric theory and provide brief descriptions of a few testing instruments Psychological Assessment in South Africa provides in depth coverage of a range of areas within the broad field of psychological assessment including research conducted with various psychological instruments The chapters critically interrogate the current Eurocentric and Western cultural hegemonic practices that dominate the field of psychological assessment The book therefore has the potential to function both as an academic text for graduate students as well as a specialist resource for professionals including psychologists psychometrists remedial teachers and human resource practitioners South African Schooling: The Enigma of Inequality Nic Spaull, Jonathan D. Jansen, 2019-11-05 This volume brings together many of South Africa s leading scholars of education and covers the full range of South African schooling from financing and policy reform to in depth discussions of literacy numeracy teacher development and curriculum change The book moves beyond a historical analysis and provides an inside view of the questions South African scholars are now grappling with Are there different and preferential equilibria we have not yet thought of or explored and if so what are they In practical terms how does one get to a more equitable distribution of teachers resources and learning outcomes While decidedly local these questions resonate throughout the developing world South Africa today is the most unequal country in the world The richest 10% of South Africans lay claim to 65% of national income and 90% of national wealth This is the largest 90 10 gap in the world and one that is reflected in the schooling system Two decades after apartheid it is still the case that the life chances of most South African children are determined not by their ability or the result of hard work and determination but instead by the colour of their skin the province of their birth and the wealth of their parents Looking back on almost three decades of democracy in South Africa it is this stubbornness of inequality and its patterns of persistence that demands explanation justification and analysis This is a landmark book on basic education in South Africa an essential volume for those interested in learning outcomes and their inequality in South Africa The various chapters present conceptually and empirically sophisticated analyses of learning outcomes across divisions of race class and place The book brings together the wealth of decades of research output from top quality researchers to explore what has improved what has not and why Prof Lant Pritchett Harvard University There is much wisdom in this collection from many of the best education analysts in South Africa No surprise that they conclude that without a large and sustained expansion in well trained teachers early childhood education and adequate school resources South Africa will continue to sacrifice its people s future to maintaining the privileges of the few Prof Martin Carnoy Stanford University Altogether one can derive from this very valuable volume if not an exact blueprint for the future then certainly at least a crucial and evidence based itinerary for the next few steps Dr Luis Crouch RTI

Systematic Reviews of Research in Basic Education in South Africa Felix Maringe, 2021-04-09 Maringe ought to be commended for putting together an invaluable contribution to our understanding of research into a complex education system in South Africa This volume provides a useful foundation to the current state of education quality in South Africa including the impact of interventions It also brings to the fore challenges still facing education transformation The evidence presented which taken together lays out a coherent view of how improvements could be made Albert Chanee Head of Planning Gauteng Department of Education For too long the weight of educational scholarship produced in South Africa has been limited to that simple and standard form called the literature review Now for the first time education researchers are provided with an African based text on the concepts and methods of conducting systematic reviews In this exceptional work of editorship Felix Maringe brings together some of the leading researchers on South African education to model and demonstrate how to review a significant body of research on a chosen topic which is adjudicated strictly on the basis of the quality and efficacy of the evidence in hand I have no doubt that this remarkable book will become a standard reference for educational researchers in and beyond the African continent It will also lift the quality of educational inquiry by equipping a new generation of scholars with the capacity for doing evidence based research that compels the attention of policymakers planners and practitioners alike Prof Jonathan Jansen Stellenbosch University

Proceedings of the ... International Conference for the Psychology of Mathematics Education , 1998 Knowledge, Curriculum and Equity Brian Barrett, Ursula Hoadley, John Morgan, 2017-07-20 In 2008 the first in a series of symposia established a social realist case for knowledge as an alternative to the relativist tendencies of the constructivist post structuralist and postmodernist approaches dominant in the sociology of education The second symposium focused on curriculum and the development of a theoretical language grounded in social realism to talk about issues of knowledge and curriculum Finally the third symposium brought together researchers in a broad range of contexts to build on these ideas and arguments and with a concerted empirical focus bring these social realist ideas and arguments into conversation with data Knowledge Curriculum and Equity Social Realist Perspectives contains the work of the third symposium where the strengths and gaps in the social realist approach are identified and where there is critical recognition of the need to incrementally extend the theories through empirical study Fundamentally the problem that social realism is seeking to address is about understanding the social conditions of knowledge production and exchange as well as its structuring in the curriculum and in pedagogy The central concern is with the on going social reproduction of inequality through schooling and exploring whether and how foregrounding specialised knowledge and its access holds the possibility for interrupting it This book consists of 13 chapters by different authors working in Oceania Asia Europe Africa and North America From very different vantage points the authors focus their theoretical and empirical sights on the assumptions about knowledge that underpin educational processes and the pursuit of more equitable schooling for all

Taking Power in the Economy Susan Brown, Alta Fölscher, 2004 Covers trends from the mid 1990s to 2002

South Africa Pushed to the Limit Hein Marais, 2011-01-13 Since 1994 the democratic government in South Africa has worked hard at improving the lives of the black majority yet close to half the population lives in poverty jobs are scarce and the country is more unequal than ever For millions the colour of people's skin still decides their destiny In his wide ranging incisive and provocative analysis Hein Marais shows that although the legacies of apartheid and colonialism weigh heavy many of the strategic choices made since the early 1990s have compounded those handicaps Marais explains why those choices were made where they went awry and why South Africa's vaunted formations of the left old and new have failed to prevent or alter them From the real reasons behind President Jacob Zuma's rise and the purging of his predecessor Thabo Mbeki to a devastating critique of the country's continuing AIDS crisis its economic path and its approach to the rights and entitlements of citizens South Africa Pushed to the Limit presents a riveting benchmark analysis of the incomplete journey beyond apartheid

Pedagogy in Poverty Ursula Hoadley, 2017-08-09 As South Africa transitioned from apartheid to democracy changes in the political landscape as well as educational agendas and discourse on both a national and international level shaped successive waves of curriculum reform over a relatively short period of time Using South Africa as a germane example of how curriculum and pedagogy can interact and affect educational outcomes Pedagogy in Poverty explores the potential of curricula to improve education in developing and emerging economies worldwide and ultimately to reduce inequality Incorporating detailed empirical accounts of life inside South African classrooms this book is a much needed contribution to international debate surrounding optimal curriculum and pedagogic forms for children in poor schools Classroom level responses to curriculum policy reforms reveal some implications of the shifts between a radical progressive approach and traditional curriculum forms Hoadley focuses on the crucial role of teachers as mediators between curriculum and pedagogy and explores key issues related to teacher knowledge by examining the teaching of reading and numeracy at the foundational levels of schooling Offering a data rich historical sociology of curriculum and pedagogic change this book will appeal to academics researchers and postgraduate students in the fields of education sociology of education curriculum studies educational equality and school reform and the policy and politics of education     Primary Education in Crisis Brahm Fleisch, 2008 In the past decade the national preoccupation has been on the crisis in secondary schools Lurking behind the intractable problem of low pass rates the dysfunctional schools and the small number of higher grade mathematics and science graduates is the calamity in primary education Drawing on the work of researchers in a range of fields including psychology sociology anthropology linguistics economics the health sciences and mathematics education this book documents the depth and scope of the primary education crisis and provides a comprehensive and rigorous explanation of its causes Primary education in crisis pulls together the wealth of research on health poverty resources language and teaching as factors in academic achievement in reading writing and mathematics At the centre of the book is an analysis of the published studies that systematically document what teachers teach and fail to teach and why it is that teaching is at the heart of the crisis in primary education The author suggests that there are no quick fixes but only hard choices and that for reform to succeed it must be evidence based
