Education in Cambodia Vincent McNamara,Martin Hayden,2022-05-14 This book is the most comprehensive account yet published about the education system in Cambodia It covers all system levels and draws upon the knowledge and insights of a wide range of leading Cambodian and foreign scholars The book focuses on how the system has developed and is making progress Significant achievements over the past two decades are evident but many problems remain including the poor quality of teaching research and institutional management Under funding is an ongoing obstacle but so too is a bureaucratic culture of resistance to change a history of weak governance and an anti reform sentiment deriving from a teacher centred and exam driven curriculum Achieving international standards must now be the system s highest priority To this end the system must rid itself of conservatism complacency and manipulation by parochial vested interests

Teaching and Learning Secondary School Mathematics Ann Kajander, Jennifer Holm, Egan J Chernoff, 2018-10-24 This volume brings together recent research and commentary in secondary school mathematics from a breadth of contemporary Canadian and International researchers and educators It is both representative of mathematics education generally as well as unique to the particular geography and culture of Canada The chapters address topics of broad applicability such as technology in learning mathematics recent interest in social justice contexts in the learning of mathematics as well as Indigenous education The voices of classroom practitioners the group ultimately responsible for implementing this new vision of mathematics teaching and learning are not forgotten Each section includes a chapter written by a classroom teacher making this volume unique in its approach We have much to learn from one another and this volume takes the stance that the development of a united vision supported by both research and professional dialog provides the first step

Public Examinations Examined Thomas

Kellaghan, Vincent Greaney, 2019-11-19 High stakes public examinations exert a dominant influence in most education systems. They affect both teacher and student behavior especially at the middle and upper levels of secondary education. The content of past examinations tends to dictate what is taught and how it is taught and more important what is learned and how it is learned. By changing aspects of these examinations especially their content and format education systems can have a strong positive impact on teacher behavior and student learning help raise student achievement levels and better prepare students for tertiary level education and for employment. Examination agencies many of which have followed the same procedures over decades can learn from the successes and failures of other systems. This book addresses current issues related to the development administration scoring and usage of these high stakes public examinations identifying key issues and problems related to examinations in many emerging market economies as well as in advanced economies. The book's primary audience consists of public examination officials on national regional and state examination boards but the book should also be of interest to senior education policy makers concerned with certification and learning achievement standards to academics and researchers interested in educational assessment to governmental and education agencies responsible for student selection and to professionals at development organizations. This extremely well written and comprehensive book offers a timely review of the diversity of public examination practices worldwide of the tensions between examinations and learning and of the technical expertise involved in the creation of valid reliable and fair assessments. It reminds us that as the diploma disease takes hold with an ever greater intensity at every stage of education worldwide and the commercial business of testing flourishes those concerned with educational quality and meaningful learning must be on guard to prevent the assessment tail wagging the educational dog. Angela W Little Professor Emerita Institute of Education University College London. This book is very well structured and written and draws on the authors remarkable global knowledge across countries and histories. It will be a great asset both to administrators responsible for examinations and to academics and other professionals who seek to understand the nature and impact of examinations of different types and in different settings. Mark Bray UNESCO Chair Professor of Comparative Education University of Hong Kong and former Director UNESCO International Institute for Educational Planning. I am sure that Public Examinations Examined which thoroughly analyzes the practice of public examinations in different countries and makes profound and well grounded conclusions will arouse very great interest and will serve to further improve public examinations. Victor Bolotov Distinguished Professor Higher School of Economics National Research University Moscow member Russian Academy of Education and former Deputy Minister of Education Russian Federation. Learning from Shanghai Charlene Tan, 2012-11-27 The Shanghai school system has attracted worldwide attention since its impressive performance in the Programme for International Student Assessment PISA in 2009. The system ranks as a stunning success according to standards of the Organisation for Economic Co operation and Development OECD. Shanghai also stands out for having the world's highest percentage of resilient students students from socio economically disadvantaged backgrounds who emerge as top performers Learning From Shanghai Lessons on Educational Success offers a close up view of the people and the policies that have achieved such world class performance Based on research and personal observation gathered during the author s recent field work with school principals teachers and students this book explores the factors that explain Shanghai s exceptional success in education The approach combines high standards of scholarly research and analysis with the author s unique personal insights as evidenced by chapters entitled Education is Filling a Bucket and Lighting a Fire and Tiger Mothers Dragon Children Drawing on her experience as an education professional and a teacher of teachers Charlene Tan thoroughly examines and analyzes the people the policies and the practices that distinguish Shanghai educators The contents include comprehensive details on the Shanghai approach to quality education from discussion of the balance between centralization and decentralization to school autonomy and accountability to testing policy and professional development for teachers The book includes detailed tables on curriculum and school performance targets sample appraisal forms for teachers and students and dozens of photographs The author is an Associate Professor at the National Institute of Education Nanyang Technological University Singapore Annual Performance Plan Mpumalanga (South Africa). Department of Education,2016 School Mathematics Curricula Catherine P. Vistro-Yu,Tin Lam Toh,2019-04-26 This book sheds light on school mathematics curricula in Asian countries including their design and the recent reforms that have been initiated By discussing and analyzing various problematic aspects of curriculum development and implementation in a number of East and South Asian countries and offering insights into these countries unique approaches to supplementing school mathematics curricula it contributes to shaping effective policies for implementation assessment and monitoring of curricula The book covers a wide range of issues curriculum design localization of curricula directions of curricular reforms mathematics textbooks assessment within the curriculum and teachers professional development which are of interest to a wide international audience Decolonizing Educational Assessment Ardavan Eizadirad,2019-09-06 This book examines the history of standardized testing in Ontario leading to the current context and its impact on racialized identities particularly on Grade 3 students parents and educators Using a theoretical argument supplemented with statistical trends the author illuminates how EQAO tests are culturally and racially biased and promote a Eurocentric curriculum and way of life privileging white students and those from higher socio economic status This book spurs readers to further question the use of EQAO standardized testing and challenges us to consider alternative models which serve the needs of all students Pacific Rim Objective Measurement Symposium (PROMS) 2014 Conference Proceedings Quan Zhang,Hong Yang,2015-07-10 This book collects and organizes the original studies presented at PROMS 2014 conference on theories and applications of Rasch model It provides useful examples of the Rasch model used to address practical measurement problems across a range of different disciplines including Item Response Theory IRT philosophy of measurement dimensionality the role of fit statistics and residuals application educational
