Cult of the Irrelevant Michael C. Desch, 2019 How professionalization and scholarly rigor made social scientists increasingly irrelevant to US national security policy To mobilize America's intellectual resources to meet the security challenges of the post 9/11 world US Secretary of Defense Robert M. Gates observed that we must again embrace eggheads and ideas But the gap between national security policymakers and international relations scholars has become a chasm In Cult of the Irrelevant Michael Desch traces the history of the relationship between the Beltway and the Ivory Tower from World War I to the present day Recounting key Golden Age academic strategists such as Thomas Schelling and Walt Rostow Desch's narrative shows that social science research became most oriented toward practical problem solving during times of war and that scholars returned to less relevant work during peacetime Social science disciplines like political science rewarded work that was methodologically sophisticated over scholarship that engaged with the messy realities of national security policy and academic culture increasingly turned away from the job of solving real world problems In the name of scientific objectivity academics today frequently engage only in basic research that they hope will somehow trickle down to policymakers Drawing on the lessons of this history as well as a unique survey of current and former national security policymakers Desch offers concrete recommendations for scholars who want to shape government work The result is a rich intellectual history and an essential wake up call to a field that has lost its way

Reassessing the Liberal State Timothy Fuller, John Hittinger, 2001 This collection of essays revisits Jacques Maritain's book Man and the State the University of Chicago Walgreen lectures of 1949 and critically engages its greatest themes and arguments the character of the modern state and its relation to the body politic the state's functions and claims the basis of authority the foundation of human rights and natural law structural pluralism Church and State relations national sovereignty and the prospects for world government The contributors address whether Maritain has successfully accomplished his project of engaging modernity from the perspective of a 20th century disciple of Thomas Aquinas whether his reformulations and revisions of the modern state are philosophically sound and prudent and whether his developments of Aristotle and Aquinas are faithful to the sources Maritain drawing upon the philosophy of Aquinas represents a significant achievement he provides a viable reassessment of the liberal state uniting Thomistic and Aristotelian traditions with the human rights thrust of modern political philosophy In short Maritain reassesses the liberal state in light of ancient and medieval political traditions seeking to find what is true enduring and practical in the modern liberal state while criticizing its excesses and reconceptualizing its philosophical foundations The contributors to this collection find Maritain has achieved much in the accomplishment of this project Some continue this project by applying Maritain's philosophy to contemporary issues Other contributors find it helpful however to compare Maritain to other contemporary political philosophers and to question his use of the philosophy of Aquinas Maritain's political philosophy and Man and the State in particular is worth continued study Although his influence was greatest in the 1950s and 1960s and his philosophy has been displaced by new trends his work shows a remarkable resilience and relevance to the issues of the day offering a deeper philosophical foundation and more flexible set of tools for analysis than currently provided Timothy Fuller professor of political science and acting president of Colorado College is the editor of Leading and Leadership and The Voice of Liberal Learning Michael Oakeshott on Education John P Hittinger is professor of philosophy at the United States Air Force Academy and coeditor of Liberalism at the Crossroads An Introduction to Contemporary Liberal Theory and its Critics Contributors J Budziszewski Joseph M DeTorre Gregory Doolan Desmond Fitzgerald Timothy Fuller John R Goodreau Catherine Green William Haggerty James G Hanink Jeanne M Heffernan John P Hittinger Russell Hittinger Richard Lemp V Bradley Lewis Nicholas C Lund Molfese John G Trapani Jr Deborah Wallace Henk E S Woldring and Michael Woodward
