

Glory Movie Questions

1. How does the attitude of Colonel Robert Gould Shaw toward African-Americans change and why?

Colonel Shaw's attitude toward African-Americans changes over the course of the movie. At first, he is a white supremacist who believes that African-Americans are inferior and should not be allowed to fight in the military. However, as he sees the bravery and sacrifice of the men of the 54th Massachusetts, he begins to change his mind and becomes a more progressive leader.

2. What differences exist among the black soldiers who make up the 54th Massachusetts Volunteer Infantry? What does this tell you about the different experiences of blacks in 19th-century America? What about their regions of origin, former status (enslaved), and educational background?

The 54th Massachusetts Volunteer Infantry is a diverse group of men from different backgrounds and regions. Some were formerly enslaved, while others were free. They come from different parts of the country, and their educational backgrounds vary. This diversity reflects the different experiences of African-Americans in 19th-century America.

3. What attitudes did white soldiers have about the 54th? Did these attitudes change and why?

At first, the white soldiers of the 54th are treated with prejudice and discrimination. They are often called "niggers" and "samboes" by their white counterparts. However, as they see the bravery and sacrifice of the 54th, their attitudes begin to change.

4. Were blacks treated equally to whites in the Union army? Explain.

No, African-Americans were not treated equally to whites in the Union army. They were often paid less than white soldiers, and they were not allowed to hold the same positions as white soldiers. However, their bravery and sacrifice helped to change the way that African-Americans were treated in the military.

5. What is significant about Colonel Shaw's decision to refuse to surrender?

Colonel Shaw's decision to refuse to surrender is significant because it shows that he is willing to die for his men. This decision also shows that he is willing to fight for the freedom of African-Americans.

6. Did that incident end as you expected? What feelings or thoughts come over you last night?

The incident ended as I expected. I was surprised that the 54th was able to hold out for so long. I was also surprised that the white soldiers of the 54th were able to fight so bravely. I was also surprised that the 54th was able to win the battle. I was also surprised that the 54th was able to be recognized as heroes.
