QUESTION 1 – 30 marks

Read both Text A and Text B and answer the next questions.

TEXT A

- Questions that the photo-fan-winning Springbok captain Bheke Mkhize answered – came partly unexpected – in his inspirational autobiography Rise.
 - South African rugby player Bheke Mkhize was taken as inspiration as and of the prize. Bheke the Black rose is South Africa's rugby team to more than 100 years. From humble beginnings to international stardom, Mkhize's life shows the power of achieving a positive mindset.
 - Here are questions we put answered from Mkhize's autobiography, Rise.
1. Write over the person that set him on the path to glory?
1. Mkhize makes no bones about it: "Without her, I wouldn't be here. That's not a figure of speech," Mkhize explains, talking about his grandmother Nkomo, who brought him up in the township of Dordos in the Eastern Cape city of Port Elizabeth. An remarkable woman, she was the "positive, loving, supportive and protective" influence in his toughest of times. She would never go without food herself to ensure Mkhize had enough to stave off his mother's hunger. She really did make great but will always be in his heart.
2. What was his first sporting triumph?
2. Mkhize began playing soccer when he was and loved playing goals, shooting himself above in the hard, compressed earth of a makeshift pitch, guarding goals made of bricks. He and his team mates would share a goal place of five yards (that's about 25 yards or 30 yards between them) when they set a 'tournament' against kids from another street in the township. They would then buy pies at weekends – pieces of dough filled with sausage and cheese – as their trophies. As often as not, though, he realised, it would be and with a trophy, but achieving the feeling of a winner.
3. What most attracted him to rugby?
3. As a teenager? It's a funny one! No, when he was the white-eyed four-year-old who was watching the national football team arrive from Dordosville. Bheke performing their homeland famous pre-match challenge, the Haka at the 2002 World Cup. "To me, it was just another well-dressed white man of colour, high-spirited and eye-rolling, and it's probably with my hands in the sky, and performed for my dad when he came home from work every evening," realised Mkhize.

12. What was the moment that changed his life?

11. Mkhize recalled how he felt as he grew from a small, soft, different, more treacherous corner as he got increasingly involved in Springbok and period walking with other boys in the township. "I suddenly ended up surrounded from them, who only knew two real options: join or drop. Or both," he reflected. "It was training session for a local rugby team collective African Bantams, currently a shooting, nothing, but experienced coach called Ben Gengeni, proved an inspiration. "I finished that session exhausted, injured and bleeding, but I walked home on a machine. I was the most handsome thing I've ever done. From that moment on, I never looked back, and never looked another way again," Mkhize remembered.

13. What was his first team?

11. After Mkhize moved to a life-changing primary to attend Day High School in Port Elizabeth, he walked to rugby. Springboks came to their team, headed by Sir John Burger. "He was my hero, not just because I was almost like him, but because of the way he played. He was everywhere, always had his hand flying as he threw himself into tackles, charged into goals and ran the hard yards in the tight scrums," he remembered. He was his very first club, even to join Burger for his autobiography. Mkhize teacher showed a pen and a piece of paper to Mkhize, who didn't know how to write and had to get the signature that in this day, sometimes of his pen and possession. "If you'd told me then that one day I'd be a school teacher, I'd have thought you'd lost your mind," realised Mkhize.
