If so, you're in the right place! If not, prepare to see the beautiful game through the lens of timeless poetry. This anthology brings together a collection of original sonnets written in true Shakespearean fashion, crafted in iambic pentameter, structured in the classic 4 4 4 2 form, and bound by the elegance of the English rhyme scheme. Each poem is a celebration of Liverpool's rich footballing story, with themes spanning from iconic players and legendary managers to loyal fans, fierce rivalries, and the essence of the game itself. Accompanied by vivid pictorials, these sonnets don't just speak; they sing. They honour a club that means more than football, a culture that resonates across generations. Donald Uwanaka, the author, fell in love with Liverpool after the unforgettable night in Istanbul, 2005, a comeback that captured his heart and never let go. With this collection, he blends his passion for poetry and football into a heartfelt tribute to the Reds. So turn the page, walk with the Bard, and celebrate Liverpool's 20th title like never before.      English Language and

L. Birchfield, 2007. Will poisoned Indians conquer the United States in the twenty-first century? Is there anything that can be done to stop them? Can the United States's oldest and most loyal Indian military ally, the Choctaws, stop them? Or do Choctaws pose the most difficult problem of all? In this provocative and incendiary book, D. L. Birchfield bluntly points out what few are willing to say: America's population superiority is now meaningless; its population density is a crippling liability; and the United States has a dangerous Indian problem. If you don't know about the American betrayal of the Choctaws or whether Choctaws are still loyal to the United States or why the third largest Indian nation in North America is virtually unknown to Americans, sit back and hold on as Birchfield pulls back the curtain to reveal a startling future with an irreverence and disdain for convention that is anything but subtle.      Monograph Series on Languages and Linguistics, 1960
