Post-Colonial Nations in Historical and Cultural Context Dmitri M. Bondarenko, 2023-05-30 Using historical and anthropological analysis in Post Colonial Nations in Historical and Cultural Context Dmitri M Bondarenko examines nation building in Tanzania Uganda and Zambia He examines the nation and state as concepts and how these are changing globally particularly in regard to the idea that the fundamental characteristic of a nation is a culturally homogeneous community This feature became a cornerstone of the concept of the nation at its formation in the West by the end of the eighteenth century but post colonial migration flows from the Global South to the Global North are increasing multi culturalism in the North In contrast liberated states of Asia and Africa have been multi cultural from earlier on as they inherited the colonial borders in which typically many peoples were united Throughout the book Bondarenko argues that this history of multi culturalism is an advantage to development in the Global South and that it s necessary to depart from the classical Western concept of the nation to simultaneously support citizen unity while preserving cultural diversity

Distance Education Paul Birevu Muyinda, 2012-09-19 Education has become the number one demanded commodity for social and economic transformation for both developing and developed economies Thus the number of persons going and returning to school has become too big to be handled by existing brick and mortar learning institutions Besides the majority of lifelong learners do not have the time to become full time students Distance education is becoming the solution to the aforementioned challenges It has been defined as the mode of study where the learner is separated in time and space from the institution and tutors providing the tuition History of Humanity: The nineteenth century Sigfried J. de
