Manuale D Amore Due

Manuale D Amore Due:

Marco Bellocchio Clodagh Brook, 2010-04-02 Marco Bellocchio is one of Italy's most important and prolific directors with a career spanning five decades. In this book Clodagh J. Brook explores the boundaries between the public and the private, the political and the personal, and the collective and the individual as they appear in Bellocchio's films. Including work on psychoanalysis, politics, film production, autobiography, and the relationship between film tradition and contemporary culture, Marco Bellocchio touches on fundamental issues in film analysis. Brook's study interrogates what it means to make personal or anti-institutional art in a medium dominated by a late capitalist industrial model of production. Her readings of Bellocchio's often enigmatic and perplexing work suggest new ways to answer questions about subjectivity, objectivity, and political commentary in modes of filmmaking. Relating the art of a private director to a public medium, Clodagh J. Brook's work is an important contribution to our understanding of film.

Recent Italian Cinema Tiziana Ferrero Regis, 2009 In Recent Italian Cinema, two fundamental questions are asked: the first concerns whether Italian cinema as national cinema is in reality reduced to a niche market in its own territory. The second relates to what Italian audiences do with domestic films. For nearly two decades, most Italian films have been produced outside box office returns through a practice of subsidy and co-financing between many institutional and private entities. Thus Italian cinema has had to define its mode of production and use value of films in a different way. It is clear that it is no longer possible to separate national cinemas from the grip that the American film industry has on world markets in terms of imagination and modes of production, distribution, and exhibition. It is thus only by examining the multiple layers of description and analysis which take into account the presence of Hollywood that we can come to an understanding of what recent Italian cinema actually is.

Screening Religions in Italy Clodagh J. Brook, 2019-11-13 Religion has had been foundational in shaping Italy. Home to the Vatican State, the Italian peninsula is the religious centre for one billion Catholics globally. It is also increasingly home to those of other faiths, especially Islam. Italy's development as a contemporary post-secular and multi-religious society is fraught and fascinating. The recent return of religious discourse from the margins of Western society to a central position is a sign of what German philosopher Jürgen Habermas has defined as the post-secular condition. Habermas and others have questioned what most people in the West had up to a few years ago taken for granted: the unstoppable forward march of secularization and the subsequent marginalization of religion. Instead, one of the greatest global fault lines in the contemporary world, the divide between absolutist extremist Islamic faith and liberal but Christian-inflected secular values, has religious identity at its core. The first book-length study to examine religion in contemporary Italian cinema and television fiction, Screening Religions in Italy identifies two key issues: how Italian filmmaking constructs the continuing position of religion in the public sphere and why religion persists on Italian screens. It spans genres such as horror, comedy, hagiopics, and TV fiction, and explores both commercial and art-house filmmaking. It treats films and television series that range from Moretti's Habemus Papam to Sorrentino's The Young Pope.

The Europeanness of European Cinema Mary Harrod, Mariana Liz, Alissa Timoshkina, 2014-12-19 From The Artist to The White Ribbon from Oscar to Palme d'Or winning productions European filmmaking is more prominent world wide than ever before. This book identifies the distinctive character of European cinema both in films and as a critical concept asking what place does European cinema have in an increasingly globalized world. Including in depth analyses of production and reception contexts as well as original readings of key European films from leading experts in the field it renegotiates traditional categories such as auteurism, art cinema and national cinemas. As the first publication to explore Europeanness in cinema this book refocuses and updates historically significant areas of study in relation to this term. Leading scholars in European cinema including Thomas Elsaesser, Tim Bergfelder, Anne Jackel, Lucy Mazdon and Ginette Vincendeau acknowledge the transnational character of European filmmaking whilst also exploring the oppositions between European and Hollywood filmmaking considering the value of the European label in the circulation of films within and beyond the continent. The Europeanness of European Cinema makes a lively, timely intervention in the fields of European and transnational film studies.

World Film Locations: Barcelona Lorenzo J. Torres Hortelano, Helio San Miguel, 2013-01-01 Barcelona is one of the world's most beautiful cities. A permanent showcase of the work of acclaimed architect Antoni Gaudí, it also has a long and rich cinematic legacy. Great directors from all over the world among them Woody Allen, Pedro Almodóvar and Michelangelo Antonioni have set their films there. World Film Locations: Barcelona is the first book of its kind to explore the rich cinematic history of this seductive Catalan city. The illuminating essays collected here cover essential themes of the city's cinematic history including the origins of cinema in Barcelona, the role of Ciutat Vella, old quarter as a film set, the influential Barcelona School of the 1960s, the film presence of Gaudí and his work changing attitudes and urban renewal before and after the 1992 Olympics and the emergence of a new generation of female filmmakers that have made Barcelona the centre of their cinematic explorations. This book will be a welcome addition to the libraries of anyone enchanted by the beauty of Barcelona, whether in person or on the big screen.
