Obura, 2003 National Bibliography of Uganda , 2011 University of Dar Es Salaam Library Journal , 2006 The Orderly Entrepreneur Catherine A. Honeyman, 2016-09-14 The first generation of children born after Rwanda's 1994 genocide is just now reaching maturity setting aside their school uniforms to take up adult roles in Rwandan society and the economy At the same time Rwanda's post war government has begun to shrug off international aid as it pursues an increasingly independent path of business friendly yet strongly state regulated social and economic development The Orderly Entrepreneur tells the story of a new Rwanda now at the vanguard among developing countries emulating the policies of Singapore Korea and China and devoutly committed to entrepreneurship as a beacon for 21st century economic growth Drawing on ethnographic research with nearly 500 participants The Orderly Entrepreneur investigates the impact and reception of the Rwandan government's multiyear entrepreneurship curriculum first implemented in 2007 as required learning in all secondary schools As Honeyman shows entrepreneurship is more than a benign buzzword or hopeful panacea for economic development but a complex ideal with unique meanings across Rwandan society She reveals how curriculum developers teachers and students all brought their own interpretations and influence to the new entrepreneurship curriculum exposing how even a carefully engineered project of social transformation can be full of indeterminacies and surprising twists every step of the way Perspectives on Curriculum and Instruction Frank Schorn, Arthur Blair, 1982 Geolinguistics , 2005 Moto , 1997 Uganda Confidential , 2002 Language and Literacy in Uganda Kate Parry, 2000 Uganda's linguistic situation is complex These papers from two conferences at Makerere University present a coherent and current picture The book is divided into five parts an overview of language and literacy issues in both Ugandan and international contexts the issue of language for national communication the role of local language in the education system national policies and practices in teaching literacy and literature and ways of encouraging a reading culture in Uganda International Handbook of Reading Education Betty J. Eller, John Hladczuk, 1992-07-27 As major political and social changes continue to sweep through the countries of the world and more and more nations move toward forms of social democracy the importance of being able to read has taken on a new urgency The burden of government commerce education and social welfare is moving increasingly toward the individual and with it the need to turn basic reading skills into the sophisticated ability to analyze comprehend and debate the whole world of language in front of him This book offers an opportunity to see how the process of learning to read is being handled in a broad cross section of countries in the world representing the First Second and Third Worlds Each of the twenty six country surveys has been written by an international scholar indigenous to that land and follows the same basic pattern in examining reading education Following a brief introduction to the nation and its particular educational characteristics ten reading associated factors are fully discussed and analyzed These factors include the language of the country in question its reading policy the goals of reading illiteracy issues pertaining to the rate and diagnosis of reading disabilities reading readiness programs the teacher qualification procedure the source and availability of materials in reading the financing of reading education and research thrusts in the field of reading Each chapter then concludes with a summary and brief bibliography of important reference sources within that country This unique study will be an essential reference tool for students and practitioners in the fields of education and reading literacy as well as a valuable addition to both public and academic libraries
