

To let me blood, and not restore What I have lost with cordial fruit? Sure there was wine Before my sighs did dry it: there was corn Before my tears did drown it. Is the year only lost to me? Have I no bayes to crown it? No flowers, no garlands gay? all blasted? All wasted?	10
Not so, my heart: but there is fruit, And thou hast hands. Recover all thy sigh-blown age On double pleasures: leave thy cold dispute Of what is fit and not. Forsake thy cage, Thy rope of sands, Which petty thoughts have made, and made to thee Good cable, to enforce and draw, And be thy law,	20
While thou didst wink and wouldst not see. Away; take heed: I will abroad. Call in thy deaths head there: tie up thy fears. He that forbears To suit and serve his need, Deserves his load.	25
But as I rav'd and grew more fierce and wild At every word, Me thoughts I heard one calling, Child!  And I reply'd, My Lord.	30  35

Milton,2014-04-01 Much of the current debate about education too often resembles the blind men describing an elephant apprehending only a particular part of the situation or the process many analysts tell an evocative but incomplete story The so called reform discussion proceeds with a lack of depth about the nuances and realistic limitations in the institutional order of school This book argues that as regulation of schools moves further up the bureaucratic hierarchy first to state departments of education then to the national department of education the legal and institutional requirements get more intensive but less concretely useful in class rooms This bureaucratization serves to tighten the organizational environment thereby increasing the risk of normal accidents The increasing governmental management in other words makes it more likely that schools will fail to meet their goals Analyses of education are too often developed for public consumption in a fast moving political world This book examines some of the deeper organizational reasons why things don t work so well in school as well as a look at some of things that do work Most importantly the book will explain how the social and cultural expectations of what schools can do may create unrealistic hopes We as a society and schools as institutions embrace these unreasonably high hopes at our collective peril Check out Andrew s latest interview with Seattle Radio <http://kiroradio.com> listen 9972862 English Language Learners and the New Standards Margaret Heritage,Aída Walqui,Robert Linquanti,2020-01-15 In English Language Learners and the New Standards three leading scholars present a clear vision and practical suggestions for helping teachers engage ELL students in simultaneously learning subject area content analytical practices and language This process requires three important shifts in our perspective on language and language learning from an individual activity to a socially engaged activity from a linear process aimed at correctness and fluency to a developmental process focused on comprehension and communication and from a separate area of instruction to an approach that embeds language development in subject area activities In English Language Learners and the New Standards the authors Clarify the skills and knowledge teachers need to integrate content knowledge and language development Show how teachers can integrate formative assessment in ongoing teaching and learning Discuss key leverage points and stress points in using interim and summative assessments with ELLs Provide classroom vignettes illustrating key practices Finally the authors explain the theories and research that underlie their vision and examine the role of policy in shaping pedagogy and assessment for ELL students      Official Gazette of the United States Patent and Trademark Office ,2004
