Teaching Early Algebra through Example-Based Problem Solving Meixia Ding, 2021-04-08 Drawing on rich classroom observations of educators teaching in China and the U S this book details an innovative and effective approach to teaching algebra at the elementary level namely teaching through example based problem solving TEPS Recognizing young children s particular cognitive and developmental capabilities this book powerfully argues for the importance of infusing algebraic thinking into early grade mathematics teaching and illustrates how this has been achieved by teachers in U S and Chinese contexts Documenting best practice and students responses to example based instruction the text demonstrates that this TEPS approach which involves the use of worked examples representations and deep questions helps students learn and master fundamental mathematical ideas making it highly effective in developing algebraic readiness and mathematical understanding This text will benefit post graduate students researchers and academics in the fields of mathematics STEM and elementary education as well as algebra research more broadly Those interested in teacher education classroom practice and developmental and cognitive psychology will also find this volume of interest

Creating Spaces and Finding Voices Janet L. Miller, 1990-01-01 This book follows the shared journey of five classroom teachers and a university professor as they together examine the possibilities and dilemmas of collaborative inquiry and teacher empowerment Teachers voices in spite of their similarities and differences still are not heard in the clamor for educational reform nor are they recognized on the national agendas for research on teacher education Miller and her colleagues articulate and question the contexts and assumptions that influence and frame teaching practice as they explore the constraints and the possibilities of defining and thus empowering teachers as teacher researchers Here the multiple and changing voices of teachers are clearly heard and Miller shares their experiences their frustrations their hopes and their issues By grounding these concerns within the particularities of their teaching Miller and her colleagues explore concrete situations in which they challenge and support one another Through these stories of collaborative efforts others are invited to join together in the continuous process of creating those spaces in which all teachers voices may be acknowledged and valued
