Firsthand Account

A firsthand account is the description of an event by a person who was there at the event and experienced it.

Here's a tip to help you remember!

Think of a firsthand account as a person with a camera. The person taking the account was at the event they are describing, and therefore could have snapped some photos!

Secondhand Account

A secondhand account is a description of an event often based on research.

Here's a tip to help you remember!

Think of a secondhand account as a person reading a book. The person taking the account was not at the event they are describing, and got the possibly gathered his or her information from a book!

Firsthand or Secondhand Account?

After your class has read the articles, your teacher finds Martin Luther King's I Have a Dream speech on the internet. She projects it on the screen, and the entire class watches King deliver his famous speech.

Firsthand Account

This video was shot by someone who witnessed the speech in person.

Firsthand or Secondhand Account?

Your teacher shows you a famous painting depicting The Battle of Gettysburg. It was painted by a famous Civil War artist in 1890.

Secondhand Account

The painter could not have been alive during the Battle of Gettysburg that occurred in 1863. She researched the event and made the painting based on what she learned.

Passage A
The Boston Red Sox was a powerhouse baseball team in the early 1900s. They won four World Series championships between 1912 and 1918. Three of those championships were won with the help of legendary baseball player Babe Ruth. The Red Sox traded Babe Ruth to the New York Yankees at the end of his 1918 season. The Sox experienced some rough years following his trade... 35 rough years, to be exact. Although they came close a few times, they could not seem to win another World Series. In 1903, some blamed their unfortunate luck on "The Curse of the Bambino". It was rumored by some that Babe Ruth had cursed the Red Sox team when he was traded to the Yankees, and that the well-known curse prevented them from winning their sixth world championship.

Everything changed, however, on October 31st, 2004, when the Boston Red Sox finally won another World Series championship. The "Curse of the Bambino" was history, and Red Sox fans were ready to celebrate.

The Boston Red Sox

1. Which passage was a firsthand account?

Passage B

2. How did you know?

Passage B was a letter written by Sox, a Boston Red Sox baseball fan. He was written the letter right after he watched the final game of the World Series in 1918.

3. How were the accounts different?

Passage A was mainly about the history of the Boston Red Sox baseball team. Passage B was mainly about Game 4 of the 2004 World Series. In the letter, Passage B, the writer included how he was feeling as he watched the game.

Marc Epprecht, 2008-08-15 Heterosexual Africa The History of an Idea from the Age of Exploration to the Age of AIDS builds from Marc Epprecht's previous book Hungochani which focuses explicitly on same sex desire in southern Africa to explore the historical processes by which a singular heterosexual identity for Africa was constructed by anthropologists ethnopsychologists colonial officials African elites and most recently health care workers seeking to address the HIV AIDS pandemic This is an eloquently written accessible book based on a rich and diverse range of sources that will find enthusiastic audiences in classrooms and in the general public Epprecht argues that Africans just like people all over the world have always had a range of sexualities and sexual identities Over the course of the last two centuries however African societies south of the Sahara have come to be viewed as singularly heterosexual Epprecht carefully traces the many routes by which this singularity this heteronormativity became a dominant culture In telling a fascinating story that will surely generate lively debate Epprecht makes his project speak to a range of literatures queer theory the new imperial history African social history queer and women s studies and biomedical literature on the HIV AIDS pandemic He does this with a light enough hand that his story is not bogged down by endless references to particular debates Heterosexual Africa aims to understand an enduring stereotype about Africa and Africans It asks how Africa came to be defined as a homosexual free zone during the colonial era and how this idea not only survived the transition to independence but flourished under conditions of globalization and early panicky responses to HIV AIDS UGC NET Paper

Notes for a Romantic Encyclopaedia

Novalis, 2012-02-01 Novalis is best known in history as the poet of early German Romanticism However this translation of Das Allgemeine Brouillon or Universal Notebook finally introduces him to the English speaking world as an extraordinarily gifted philosopher in his own right and shatters the myth of him as a mere daydreaming and irrational poet Composed of more than 1 100 notebook entries this is easily Novalis's largest theoretical work and certainly one of the most remarkable and audacious undertakings of the Golden Age of German philosophy In it Novalis reflects on numerous aspects of human culture including philosophy poetry the natural sciences the fine arts mathematics mineralogy history and religion and brings them all together into what he calls a Romantic Encyclopaedia or Scientific Bible Novalis's Romantic Encyclopaedia fully embodies the author's own personal brand of philosophy Magical Idealism With meditations on mankind and nature the possible future development of our faculties of reason imagination and the senses and the unification of the different sciences these notes contain a veritable treasure trove of richly poetic and philosophic thoughts

Science

John Michels (Journalist), 2010 God's Plagiarist R. Howard Bloch, 1995-09-15 God's Plagiarist is an entertaining account of the abbe Jacques Paul Migne one of the great entrepreneurs of the nineteenth century A priest in Orleans from 1824 to 1833

Migne then moved to Paris where in the space of a decade he built one of the most extensive publishing ventures of all time. How did he do it? Migne harnessed a deep well of personal energy and a will of iron to the latest innovations in print technology, advertising and merchandising. His assembly line production and innovative marketing of the massive editions of the Church Fathers placed him at the forefront of France's new commerce. Characterized by the police as one of the great schemers of the century, this priest-entrepreneur put the most questionable of business practices in the service of his devotion to Catholicism. Part detective novel, part morality tale, Bloch's narrative not only will interest scholars of nineteenth-century French intellectual history but will appeal also to general readers interested in the history of publishing or just a good historical yarn. An unforgettable Daumier-like portrait, sharp and satirical of this enterprising, austere and somewhat crazed merchandiser of sacred learning, Bloch deserves great credit for the wit and style of his effort to explore the Pedantic Park of nineteenth-century learning, that island of monsters which scholars have found as yet no escape. Anthony Grafton, New Republic. Bloch is an exhilarating guide to the methods which made Migne the Napoleon of the Prospectus, a publicist of genius. Buffalo Bill and P. T. Barnum rolled into one. David Coward, Times Literary Supplement. Mercifully, Bloch's sense of humour has none of that condescending mock bewilderment commonly applied to the foreign or ancient. It enables Bloch to promote Migne as a forerunner of the department store and to place him on a continuum running from St Paul to the Tupperware party. The quality of the merchandise is increasingly irrelevant; still more the nature of its contents. Graham Robb, London Review of Books. Standards-based Activities with Scoring Rubrics: Performance-based portfolios, 2002

Resources in Education, 2001 Critical Perspectives on Social Justice in Speech-Language Pathology Horton, RaMonda, 2021-06-25. There is very little discussion of socially just approaches to speech language pathology. Within other fields of clinically oriented practice, social justice is a topic that has received a great deal of attention within the last few years. Pedagogy for addressing social justice has been developed in other disciplines. The field of communication disorders has failed to move forward and do the same. Discussion of social justice is important given the current sociopolitical climate and landscape that clients carry out in their day-to-day functioning. Speech language pathologists (SLPs) have an opportunity to engage in practices that help address and alleviate some of the injustices that contribute to educational and health disparities experienced by communities of color. They may do this through the development and application of a socially just orientation of culturally competent practice that fosters changes beyond the individual level. Adapting such a framework makes it possible for SLPs to effectively advocate for and foster equity and inclusion for the individuals and broader communities impacted by SLP services. Critical Perspectives on Social Justice in Speech Language Pathology addresses the socio-political contexts of how the field of speech language pathology and service delivery can impact policy and debates related to social justice issues. It explores social position factors and the experiences of marginalized communities to explore how speech language pathologists deliver services, train and prepare students and carry out research in communities of color.

It covers topic areas including disproportionality in special education disability rights and ableism achievement and opportunity gaps health disparities and LGBTQ rights with a focus on voice communication and gender diverse populations This book is essential for speech language pathologists administrators practitioners researchers academicians and students interested in how the SLP profession and discipline can contribute to or develop efforts to help address injustices faced by Black Indigenous and people of color BIPOC communities Matrix Energetics Richard Bartlett,2009-07-07 Now available in paperback this paradigm busting program can teach anyone how to access their own creative power to heal and transform their lives In 1997 Dr Richard Bartlett experienced a life altering event that redirected the entire course of his personal and professional existence Suddenly by lightly touching others with focused intent he could make pain instantly disappear and most astonishing of all he could teach anyone how to do it Now for the millions of Americans looking for empowerment in an age of declining healthcare Dr Bartlett shares this scientific phenomenon in a book of explosive potential
