

Will takes a turn for the better, making friends and becoming particularly close with Zach, a fellow evacuee who is Jewish. Tom is also transformed by Will being under his care. He lost his wife, Rachel, and infant son, William, to scarlet fever years earlier and became a recluse after this loss. Will helps Tom to confront this grief and to heal from it.

Will is originally ashamed that he cannot read or write, which means that he is put in a class of students younger than his group of friends, which includes Zach, George, and twins Ginny and Carrie. Through nightly rituals of reading and writing together, as well as talking things around Tom's house, Will learns to read and write. Tom notices his interest in art work, buys him pencils and a pad of paper, and gives him some paint of paint, which belonged to Rachel. Will is a talented artist.

Later, Will's mother, who claims to be sick, demands that he return to her in the city. Will finds out that his mother has had another baby, a girl, and she is furious about Will's experiences under Tom's care. She hits Will on the head and knocks him out. When he comes to, he has been locked under the stairs, tied to a set of pipes with the baby in his arms.

Tom meanwhile has a premonition that something is wrong with Will, whom he hasn't heard from in weeks. He ventures out of his room and makes his way to London. He manages to find Will's neighborhood and convinces a warden and a policeman to kick down the door of Will's seemingly empty flat. When he does, they are greeted with a horrific stench. They discover Will and the baby, who has died.

Will goes to the hospital, but he undergoes heavy sedation to keep him calm and from screaming and disturbing the other children in the ward. Tom is told that Will likely will end up in a children's home, but Tom is unable to bear Will's distress and kidnaps him from the hospital. They return to Tom's room. Will is emaciated and traumatized but slowly starts to recover through Tom's patient and loving care.

Will blames himself for the death of his sister and his mother's treatment of him, but Tom helps him see that it is not his fault. The authorities finally trace Tom, and they tell Will that his mother has died. She died by suicide by drowning. He has no other relatives, and they want to place him in the children's home; Will is furious at this choice being taken out of his
