The second edition of this volume covers topics such as the first of the Aliyahs in the 1880s, the rise of Jewish nationalism, the beginning of the political Zionist movement and later how the movement changed after Theodor Herzl, the Balfour Declaration, the factors that led to the Arab Jewish confrontation in Palestine and its role both during the Second World War and after the war of independence and the many wars that followed it over the next few decades and the development of the Israeli republic and the many challenges it faced both domestic and foreign and still faces today. Empire in Asia: A New Global History Jack Fairey, Brian P. Farrell, 2018-06-28. Asia was the principle focus of empire builders from Alexander and Akbar to Chinggis Khan and Qianlong, and yet until now there has been no attempt to provide a comprehensive history of empire in the region. Empire in Asia addresses the need for a thorough survey of the topic. This volume traces the evolution of a constellation of competing empires in Asia from the 13th through to the 18th centuries. Separate chapters will describe the history and characteristic features of imperial regimes in each major sub-region of Asia: from the Ottomans and Safavids in the West, the Romanovs in the North, the Mughals in the South, the Mongols, their successors in Inner Asia, to the Ming and Qing Dynasties in the East. The contributors address common questions in considering the various empires, including: How did imperial Asian states understand themselves and their place in the world? How were these empires constructed and how did they attain such prominence To what extent did imperial repertoires of rule differ The two volumes of Empire in Asia offer a significant contribution to the theory and practice of empire when considered globally and comparatively and are essential reading for all students and scholars of global imperial and Asian history

Patterns in the History of Polycentric Governance in European Cities Cédric Brélaz, Thomas Lau, Hans-Joachim Schmidt, Siegfried Weichlein, 2024-03-18 The autonomy granted to local communities such as towns municipalities and city states by larger central powers such as empires kings lords and central states is a recurrent feature of European history over time from Antiquity to the contemporary period This volume explores the political social and cultural aspects of this feature in a diachronic and comparative perspective from the Roman Empire to today's city partnerships To this end it uses the concept of polycentric governance Originally developed by political economist Vincent Ostrom in the 1960s and then expanded by the 2009 winner of the Nobel Prize in Economics political scientist Elinor Ostrom this concept characterises the interdependent system of relations between different actors involved in a process and for that reason it is frequently used in policy studies This volume applies the concept of polycentric governance to historical studies as a heuristic device to analyse the multilayer systems into which cities were integrated at various points in European history as well as the implications of the coexistence of different political structures Fourteen chapters examine the structures the dynamics and the discourse of polycentric governance through various case studies from the Roman Empire from medieval towns from early modern Europe and from contemporary cities The volume suggests that for extended periods of time throughout European history polycentric governance has played a pivotal role in the organisation and distribution of political power
