Migrant Care Workers Searching For New Horizons:

Migrant Care Workers Dr Karen Christensen, Dr Ingrid Guldvik, 2014-10-28 Cristensen and Guldvik's Migrant Care Workers provides insight to the historical context for public care work and shows how migration policies, general welfare and long term care policies as well as cultural differences in values in the UK and Norway set the context for how migrant care workers can realise their individual life projects. The authors discuss what might be called a new type of migrant one who is neither a victim of the divide between the global north and the global south nor someone leaving family behind but individuals using care work as a part of their own life project of potential self improvement.

Migrant Care Workers Karen Christensen, Ingrid Guldvik, 2016-04-22 In this beautifully argued book Karen Cristensen and Ingrid Guldvik provide a comparatively based insight to the historical context for public care work and show how migration policies, general welfare and long term care policies including the cash for care schemes as well as cultural differences in values in the UK and Norway set the context for how migrant care workers can realise their individual life projects. Through viewing migrants as individuals who actively construct their lives within the options and conditions they are given at any time they bring to the discussion an awareness of what might be called a new type of migrant one who is neither a victim of the divide between the global north and the global south nor someone leaving family behind but individuals using care work as a part of their own life project of potential self improvement.

Decolonial Politics in European Peripheries Sanja S. Petkovska, 2023-12-12 Decolonial Politics in European Peripheries: Redefining Progressiveness, Coloniality and Transition Efforts is a timely contribution to the project of theorizing Europe through decolonial perspectives on the Left as the European and global crisis has prompted new reflections on what it means to sit still at the European peripheries. The book explores how the joint scholarship efforts of postcolonial and postsocialist scholars might come up with better grounded and more detailed theoretical and methodological insights into the process of globalization and subsequent peripheralization if framed under a progressive and leftist perspective. The authors, many from the South East Europe region, use a variety of analytical lenses to demonstrate how the nexus of postcolonial, postsocialist area studies and progressive developmental political thought could inspire changes in the future which are in dissonance with neoliberal and neoconservative capitalism. As the side effects of global capitalism continue to accelerate, scholars and activists in the postsocialist periphery are increasingly turning to the concept of decoloniality in the hope that it might offer more options on how to begin to build up their framework. This book offers numerous examples of how decolonial theory can be applied to activist work in the fight against austerity and neoliberalization as well as examples of how decolonial critique can be mobilized to contest processes of Europeanization and Euro Atlantic integration. This book will intrigue students and scholars of critical social scholarship in general as well as postsocialism and postcolonialism, critiques of right populism and the rise of white nationalism in Europe and those studying the regions of South Eastern Europe and Eurasia more generally. It will also interest activists, organizers, decision makers.

policy analysts and leftists both in the region and internationally Crossborder Care Miloslav Bahna, Martina Sekulová, 2018-09-25 This book analyses the circular migration of care workers in Central Europe using the example of Slovak carers in 24 hour care provision for the elderly in Austria Challenging analyses that focus primarily on care drain and care regimes Bahna and Sekulov supplement quantitative methodology with qualitative fieldwork to demonstrate the importance of the sending country's economic context The authors discuss the dynamics of economic differences between Austria and its post communist neighbors as preconditions of the crossborder care provision bridging analyses of policy and legal frameworks with approaches from labor migration study Even as they scrutinize the relevance of care drain based analyses Bahna and Sekulov bring to the fore the interplay of economic differences social policies gender and migration regimes with geographic proximity to study long term impacts of care work including an analysis of employment after care work The Routledge Handbook of Social Care Work Around the World Karen Christensen, Doria Pilling, 2017-12-22 The Routledge Handbook of Social Care Work Around the World provides both a comprehensive and authoritative state of the art review of the current research in this subject It is the first handbook to cover social care work research from around the world including both low and middle income countries as well as high income countries Each of the 22 chapters are written by experts on long term care services particularly for older people and cover key issues and debates based on research evidence on social care work in a specific country They look at perspectives of social care work from the macro level the structural conditions for long term care including demographic challenges and the long term care policy the meso level the level of provider organizations and intermediaries and the micro level views of care workers care users and unpaid informal carers Furthermore they discuss a number of topics central to discussions of care work including marketization personalization policies policy implementation under austerity the provision of social care work whether through public services or private arrangements or mixed types funding the feminization of social care and the new role that technology and robots can play in care work By drawing together leading scholars from around the world this book provides an up to the minute snapshot of current scholarship as well as signposting several fruitful avenues for future research This book is both an invaluable resource for scholars and an indispensable teaching tool for use in the classroom and will be of interest to students academics social workers social policy makers and human service professionals Racialised Workers and European Older-Age Care Nina Sahraoui, 2019-07-10 In the context of ageing populations increasing participation of women in the labour market growing marketisation of care provision and most importantly global inequalities racialised care workers have come to fulfil a key role within older age care in western European societies This book presents a gendered political economy of migrant and minority ethnic care workers experiences in older age care in London Paris and Madrid Its cross national comparative approach allows for a differentiated analysis of the workings of migration employment and care regimes in three capital cities with similarly segmented care sectors yet diverse policies and implications for care workers

Sahraoui provides a novel perspective that advances debates on the ethics of care by foregrounding the voices of racialised care workers and contributing to feminist moral philosophy Racialised Workers and European Older Age Care offers unique insights into the meanings of care labour and the challenges arising from processes of neoliberal marketisation precarisation and institutional racism The book sketches out an intersectional understanding of the exploitative relationships on which care and social reproduction currently rely and demonstrates why it matters to move care from the margins of society to its centre This innovative and compelling analysis will appeal to students and scholars of Anthropology Sociology Political Science and Social Policy as well as those working in the interdisciplinary sub fields of Gender Migration Labour and Racism Studies

The Oxford Handbook of Family Policy Over the Life Course Mary Daly,Birgit Pfau-Effinger,Neil Gilbert,Douglas J. Besharov,2023 Drawing on a multidisciplinary group of experts from many countries this Handbook is intended to be a reference work that provides students and scholars in policy related disciplines a wide ranging perspective on the diverse ways that family policies respond to modern issues and trends over the life course The Handbook is divided into two main parts The first part offers a panoramic introduction to the setting and issues which contemporary family policies have been designed to address The second part and main body of the volume is organized around four benchmark periods that encompass the main stages of the family life cycle and social policies that are called into play during these stages

Transnational Social Work Bartley, Allen,Beddoe, Liz,2018-02-07 An international comparison of labour markets migrant professionals and immigration policies and their interaction in relation to social work Support Work Relationships Deborah Luise Lutz,2020-03-03 Deborah Luise Lutz explores support work relationships the relationships between people with intellectual disabilities in receipt of a personal budget and their support workers Through the methodology of Institutional Ethnography she specifically investigates how personal budget policies that organize support work in Germany and Australia influence support work relationships She found that the policies of personal budgets are connected to people s views and expectations about the support work relationship and the support work context that influence the relationship The author argues that disability research policy and practice need to be cognisant of this interconnection to improve the quality of support work relationships Overlapping Inequalities in the Welfare State

Başak Akkan,Julia Hahmann,Christine Hunner-Kreisel,Melanie Kuhn,2024-06-18 The volume stresses the relevance of the intersectionality framework in welfare state analysis by examining overlapping inequalities within the shifting institutional boundaries and organisational processes across diverse welfare settings The volume explores the strengths and challenges of theoretical and methodological approaches to intersectionality addressing its spatial temporal and comparative dimensions It therefore adopts a critical and process focused approach while recognising the agency of individuals as subjects of state policies The contributions critically build the link between intersectionality and other theoretical frameworks and research paradigms including Marxist social reproduction theory critical race studies Bourdieuan analysis of class critical geography childhood queer migration and disability studies The contributions provide insights into the institutional realms of health education social services and care work and examine state practices of racial profiling and policing in distinct welfare states Overall the contributions illustrate the strengths of the intersectionality framework in empirical inquiries while providing critical reflections on its limitations Readers across a diverse array of social science disciplines will find this book valuable

Fathers and Sons J. Brannen, 2016-04-30 This book explores how masculinities and fatherhood are transmitted across family generations of white British Irish and Polish fathers Providing unique insights into men s lives migration employment father son relationships and intergenerational transmission it offers a rich methodological story of how intergenerational research is done

All Our Welfare Peter Beresford, 2016-01-29 The UK welfare state is under sustained ideological and political attack It has also been undermined by accusations of paternalism and past failures to engage with the very people it is intended to help This unique book is the first to critique the past present and future welfare state from a participatory perspective Peter Beresford champion of user involvement draws on pioneering theories and practice of welfare service user movements to offer a blueprint for a new participatory social policy He controversially challenges orthodox social policy and the limitations of both Fabian and Neo liberal perspectives in engaging people to improve their own welfare drawing on service users own ideas and experience including fascinating vignettes from his own family s experience to demonstrate the value of user knowledge Filling a much needed gap in the literature this accessible text will provide a great introduction for students and a road map for practitioners of an alternative vision for a future participatory and sustainable social policy It will also command much wider interest from everyone concerned with how we look after each other in future in society

Disability Rights and Wrongs Revisited Tom Shakespeare, 2013-10-30 Over the last forty years the field of disability studies has emerged from the political activism of disabled people In this challenging review of the field leading disability academic and activist Tom Shakespeare argues that disability research needs a firmer conceptual and empirical footing This new edition is updated throughout reflecting Shakespeare s most recent thinking drawing on current research and responding to controversies surrounding the first edition and the World Report on Disability as well as incorporating new chapters on cultural disability studies personal assistance sexuality and violence Using a critical realist approach Disability Rights and Wrongs Revisited promotes a pluralist engaged and nuanced approach to disability Key topics discussed include dichotomies going beyond dangerous polarizations such as medical model versus social model to achieve a complex multi factorial account of disability identity the drawbacks of the disability movement s emphasis on identity politics bioethics choices at the beginning and end of life and in the field of genetic and stem cell therapies relationships feminist and virtue ethics approaches to questions of intimacy assistance and friendship This stimulating and accessible book challenges disability studies orthodoxy promoting a new conceptualization of disability and fresh research agenda It is an invaluable resource for researchers and students in disability studies and sociology as well as professionals policy makers and activists

Resources in Education ,1998 Gringolandia Matthew Hayes,2018-11-13 A telling look at today's reverse migration of white middle class expats from north to south through the lens of one South American city Even as the migration crisis from the Global South to the Global North rages on another lower key and yet important migration has been gathering pace in recent years that of mostly white middle class people moving in the opposite direction Gringolandia is that rare book to consider this phenomenon in all its complexity Matthew Hayes focuses on North Americans relocating to Cuenca Ecuador the country's third largest city and a UNESCO World Heritage Site Many began relocating there after the 2008 economic crisis Most are self-professed economic refugees who sought offshore retirement affordable medical care and/or a lower cost location Others however sought adventure marked by relocation to an unfamiliar cultural environment and to experience personal growth through travel illustrative of contemporary cultures of aging These life projects are often motivated by a desire to escape economic and political conditions in North America Regardless of their individual motivations Hayes argues such North-South migrants remain embedded in unequal and unfair global social relations He explores the repercussions on the host country from rising prices for land and rent to the reproduction of colonial patterns of domination and subordination In Ecuador heritage preservation and tourism development reflect the interests and culture of European descendent landowning elites who have most to benefit from the new North-South migration In the process they participate in transnational gentrification that marginalizes popular traditions and nonwhite mestizo and indigenous informal workers The contrast between the migration experiences of North Americans in Ecuador and those of Ecuadorians or others from such regions of the Global South in North America and Europe demonstrates that in fact what we face is not so much a global migration crisis but a crisis of global social justice

Migration and Social Pathways Anna Guhlich,2017-10-02 The landscape of European migration has changed considerably over the past decades in particular after the fall of the iron curtain and again after the EU enlargement to the east The author researches the phenomenon of highly qualified migration using the example of migration between the Czech Republic and Germany The book reveals diverse strategies migrants use to respond to the possible devaluation of their qualification e.g. by making use of their language skills starting new studies or using transnational knowledge

The SAGE Handbook of the Sociology of Work and Employment Stephen Edgell,Heidi Gottfried,Edward Granter,2015-12-03 The SAGE Handbook of the Sociology of Work and Employment is a landmark collection of original contributions by leading specialists from around the world The coverage is both comprehensive and comparative in terms of time and space and each state-of-the-art chapter provides a critical review of the literature combined with some thoughts on the direction of research This authoritative text is structured around six core themes Historical Context and Social Divisions The Experience of Work The Organization of Work Nonstandard Work and Employment Work and Life beyond Employment Globalization and the Future of Work Globally the contours of work and employment are changing dramatically This handbook helps academics and practitioners make sense of the impact of these changes on individuals groups organizations and societies Written in an accessible style with a helpful introduction the retrospective and prospective nature of this volume will be an essential resource for students teachers and policy makers across a range of fields from business and management to sociology and organization studies Latin American Women and the Search for Social Justice Francesca Miller,1991 A clear and detailed study of Latin American women s history from the late nineteenth century to the present HOME AND AWAY INDONESIAN WOMEN AND THEIR UNIQUE TRANSNATIONAL MIGRATION EXPERIENCES IN MALAYSIA MASHITAH HAMIDI,2017-01-01 This book explores the migration processes and experiences of female labour migrants from Indonesia to Malaysia s manufacturing sector Their stories depict labour migration as a process shaped by the intersection of external structural forces and individual desires and motivations Labour migration was valued and evaluated as an investment one that was calculated not only in terms of financial security but also in relation to personal rewards and experiences unavailable to them at home These labour migrants negotiated a number of externally imposed demands and conditions ranging from migration regulations the challenges of settlement in a new city factory floor relations and the negative stereotypes attached to female Indonesian migrant workers in Malaysia Such constraints did not simply result in their sense of victimisation as the interviews revealed the women s capacity to resist negotiate and comply with such factors The book distinguishes between two groups of migrants inexperienced first time migrants and experienced repeat migrants New Horizons in Education ,1988
