A. Brebbia,C. Greated,M. W. Collins,2011 This book is ambitiously inter disciplinary and may be divided into four main sections defined in terms of the authors themselves Firstly there are two contributions by biologists Secondly the largest section is by practising artists Thirdly there are two engineering based contributions Finally two contributions address some of the historical proponents of colour theory and art These eleven works in full colour form a striking contribution to the commonwealth of colour studies and to a possible unification of Snow s two cultures Colour and inter disciplinarity go hand in hand This so often involves the authors leaving the comfort zone of their original speciality and striving for excellence in another The personal story of Franziska Schenk is but one good example It seems that our perceptions of aesthetics and beauty must be very flexible indeed as to find absolute opposites equally fascinating If so it goes to show how wonderful are the construction and operation of the human brain Does psychology win in the end Does colour lead to a single culture Uniforms of the United States Army, 1774-1889, in Full Color H. A. Ogden,2012-10-09 Richly colored hand tinted prints portray U S army uniforms from fatigues to full dress Absolutely authentic in their painstaking detail the 44 plates depict all ranks in full regalia Captions The Principles of Harmony and Contrast of Colors and Their Applications to the Arts Michel Eugène Chevreul,1906 A Cultural History of Color in the Age of Industry Alexandra Loske,2022-08-31 A Cultural History of Color in the Age of Industry covers the period 1800 to 1920 when the world embraced color like never before Inventions such as steam power lithography photography electricity motor cars aviation and cheaper color printing all contributed to a new exuberance about color Available pigments and colored products made possible by new technologies industrial manufacturing commercialization and urbanization also greatly increased as did illustrated printed literature for the mass market Color both literally and metaphorically was splashed around and became an expressive tool for artists designers and writers Color shapes an individual s experience of the world and also how society gives particular spaces objects and moments meaning The 6 volume set of the Cultural History of Color examines how color has been created traded used and interpreted over the last 5000 years The themes covered in each volume are color philosophy and science color technology and trade power and identity religion and ritual body and clothing language and psychology literature and the performing arts art architecture and interiors and artefacts Alexandra Loske is Curator at the Royal Pavilion and Museums Brighton UK Volume 5 in the Cultural History of Color set General Editors Carole P Biggam and Kirsten Wolf Popular imperialism and the military, 1850-1950 John M. MacKenzie, 2017-03-01 Colonial war played a vital part in transforming the reputation of the military and placing it on a standing equal to that of the navy The book is concerned with the interactive culture of colonial warfare with the representation of the military in popular media at home and how these images affected attitudes towards war itself and wider intellectual and institutional forces It sets out to relate the changing image of the military to these fundamental facts For the dominant people they were an atavistic form of war shorn of guilt by Social Darwinian and racial ideas and rendered less dangerous by the increasing technological gap between Europe and the world Attempts to justify and understand war were naturally important to dominant people for the extension of imperial power was seldom a peaceful process The entertainment value of war in the British imperial experience does seem to have taken new and more intensive forms from roughly the middle of the nineteenth century Themes such as the delusive seduction of martial music the sketch of the music hall song powerful mythic texts of popular imperialism and heroic myths of empire are discussed extensively The first important British war correspondent was William Howard Russell 1820 1907 of The Times in the Crimea The 1870s saw a dramatic change in the representation of the officer in British battle painting Up to that point it was the officer s courage tactical wisdom and social prestige that were put on display
