Wood, 2018-06-05 This collection of essays by twenty one distinguished American historians reflects on a peculiarly American way of imagining the past At a time when history writing has changed dramatically the authors discuss the birth and evolution of historiography in this country from its origins in the late nineteenth century through its present more cosmopolitan character In the book s first part concerning recent historiography are chapters on exceptionalism gender economic history social theory race and immigration and multiculturalism Authors are Daniel Rodgers Linda Kerber Naomi Lamoreaux Dorothy Ross Thomas Holt and Philip Gleason The three American centuries are discussed in the second part with chapters by Gordon Wood George Fredrickson and James Patterson The third part is a chronological survey of non American histories including that of Western civilization ancient history the middle ages early modern and modern Europe Russia and Asia Contributors are Eugen Weber Richard Saller Gabrielle Spiegel Anthony Molho Philip Benedict Richard Kagan Keith Baker Joseph Zizak Volker Berghahn Charles Maier Martin Malia and Carol Gluck Together these scholars reveal the unique perspective American historians have brought to the past of their own nation as well as that of the world Formerly writing from a conviction that America had a singular destiny American historians have gradually come to share viewpoints of historians in other countries about which they write The result is the virtual disappearance of what was a distinctive American voice That voice is the subject of this book

Transforming American Education ,1992 Last Stands from the Alamo to Benghazi Frank Wetta,Martin Novelli,2016-12-08 Last Stands from the Alamo to Benghazi examines how filmmakers teach Americans about the country s military past Examining twenty three representative war films and locating them in their cultural and military landscape the authors argue that Hollywood s view of American military history has evolved in two phases The first phase extending from the very beginnings of filmmaking to the Korean War projected an essential patriotic triumphalism The second phase from the Korean and Vietnam Wars to the present reflects a retreat from consensus and reflexive patriotism In describing these phases the authors address recurring themes such as the experience of war and combat the image of the American war hero race gender national myths and more With helpful film commentaries that extend the discussion through popular movie narratives this book is essential for anyone interested in American military and film history
