opposed to rules and guidelines obtained from ancient wisdom Not that there s anything wrong with ancient wisdom but it s all the more impressive to see modern guidelines to happiness based on scientific research So what does it come down to On the one hand happiness is not a destination where you arrive but a condition that needs to be cultivated It s affected by the information we let into our thoughts and the way we seek happiness Csikszentmihalyi makes a clear distinction between pleasure seeking and enjoyment where pleasure is externally focused and hence a temporary fix for happiness while true enjoyment comes from within and is sustainable On the other hand it depends on how we engage in activities and this is where flow enters the scene the research shows surprisingly few moments of happiness occur when we re idle While engaged in work in creating something in pursuit of some kind of goal stretching our abilities to their limits those are the moments when most of us experience true happiness This is when we re in a state of flow Paradoxically this means we often feel happier when working than when engaged in what most people consider leisure time watching TV getting drunk lying on a beach for a week Flow provides a solution when the principles are understood many activities can be turned into rewarding experiences that contribute to our happiness and who would say no to that

Emotions, Qualia, and Consciousness

Alfred W. Kaszniak,2001 The experience of emotion is a ubiquitous component of the stream of consciousness emotional qualia interact with other contents and processes of consciousness in complex ways Recent research has supported the hypothesis that important functional aspects of emotion can operate outside the conscious awareness Primary types of emotions are found in animals while secondary more complex types are involved in interpersonal relationships Emotions both influence genetic repair mechanisms of individuals and are responsible for group behavior Many scholars and scientists believe that no scientific or philosophic account of consciousness can be complete without an understanding of the role of emotion
