high school mathematics teachers for teaching students who are capable and interested in Logic Learning is based on reading Alice's Adventures in Wonderland and discussing quotes from that book as a trigger for developing basic notions in Logic. This guidebook includes the student's worksheets with exemplary solutions, the background in elementary logic and pedagogical comments. There is a student's workbook that accompanies this guidebook which includes the student's worksheets without solutions. Ordinary textbooks for such a course are purely mathematical in their nature and students usually find the course difficult, boring, and very technical. Our approach is likely to motivate the students through reading the classic novel Alice's Adventures in Wonderland written by Lewis Carroll, who was not only one of the best storytellers but also a logician. Under Pressure and Overwhelmed Christopher Vye, Kathlene Scholljegerdes, I. David Welch, 2007-05-30. Several recent studies have found that anxiety is increasing among college students. In today's competitive college environment, students frequently find themselves overwhelmed with worry and anxiety as they struggle to make the grade, academically fit in, socially discover who they are, and ponder their futures. This book helps students and their parents and counselors deal effectively with predictable anxieties associated with college. The authors offer suggestions and techniques based on extensive research on the treatment of anxiety to help students cope more effectively with the common sources of anxiety. In addition, the book describes the most common and debilitating disorders of anxiety, such as panic attacks, phobias, and obsessive compulsive disorder, that affect more than 10% of Americans and most frequently have their onset during the college years. The initial section of the book begins by describing the scope of the problem of anxiety as it relates to college students The next section discusses the nature of anxiety reactions noting the contribution of factors such as biological predisposition and developmental factors Finally the third section provides general strategies for managing anxiety such as doing relaxation exercises challenging negative thoughts and perspectives and facing fears Vignettes about college students dealing with anxiety are included throughout
