

ENDOCRINE SYSTEM

Endocrine System: WORKING TOGETHER

Each organ system works on other systems within the body to do its "job". Our bodies learn just some of the ways that the endocrine system interacts with other organ systems.

Nervous System

Circulatory System

Endocrine System: FACTS

Endocrine System: PROBLEMS

Most of the time, the endocrine system works perfectly well. However, sometimes problems can arise.

Diabetes

Diabetes is a condition that causes high blood glucose (sugar) levels. It is caused by the body being unable to either produce or use the hormone insulin. So, the glucose in blood sugar gets stuck in the blood. Symptoms include increased thirst, weight gain, changes in vision, increased weight changes, persistent sores, numbness or tingling in the hands.

Endocrine System: KEY TERMS

Term	Definition
Endocrine System	Network of endocrine glands that make, store, and release hormones.
Hormones	Chemical messengers that carry information and instructions from one cell to another.

Endocrine System: FUNCTIONS

The endocrine system is a network of glands that produce hormones. Hormones are the body's chemical messengers that carry information and instructions from one cell to another. Hormones control many, many important processes in our bodies.

Function of the Endocrine System

Endocrine System: HORMONES

Hormones are chemical signals. Hormones are released by a gland and travel in the blood to a receptor that binds and binds to that specific hormone. The hormone then binds to a receptor and triggers a series of events that cause the cell to respond. This causes an effect on the body.

Endocrine System: FIGHT-OR-FLIGHT

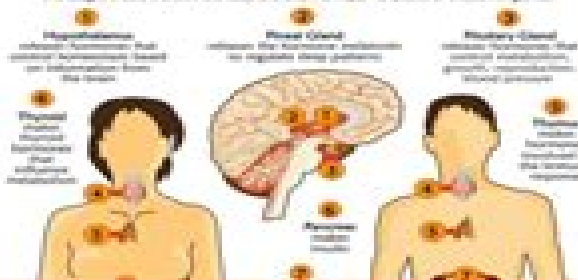

The fight-or-flight response is a reaction that occurs in the body when we are really frightened. The body's fight-or-flight response is the body's way of reacting to a dangerous situation. When we feel scared, our body's fight-or-flight response is triggered. Our body's fight-or-flight response is triggered by the release of hormones that prepare the body to either run or fight. Our body's fight-or-flight response is triggered by the release of hormones that prepare the body to either run or fight. Endocrine System: GLANDS

A gland is a structure that produces and releases substances that perform a specific function in the body. There are many glands in the body. Some glands are endocrine glands, which release hormones into the bloodstream. Other glands are exocrine glands, which release substances into the body through a duct. Endocrine glands include the hypothalamus, pituitary gland, thyroid gland, parathyroid glands, adrenal glands, and the pancreas.

Endocrine System: FEEDBACK LOOPS

Endocrine activities are regulated by complex feedback loops. These feedback loops are designed to keep hormone levels in the body within a narrow range. When hormone levels are too high, the body releases a signal to stop the hormone from being released. When hormone levels are too low, the body releases a signal to start the hormone from being released.
