Non-humans in Social Science Petr Gibas, Karolína Pauknerová, Marco Stella, 2012-04-01 Ideas of dead inert space non living machinelike reflexive controlled bodies and passive meaningless things are very modern At the very heart of the program of modernity resource exploitation and consumption is the idea that non humans have no agency they are simply resources to be manipulated and exploited at our will Mostly leaving aside the more and more evident ethical concerns of this worldview and this setting of the human non human boundary this volume attempts to explore what social sciences have to say about the relationship between the human and non human The intention of this book is to offer a non human perspective We realize that it is sometimes difficult to say whether the outcome of such a perspective would be just a shallow tendency to anthropomorphize or whether we could reach some of the previously unseen properties of non humans Being aware of the dangers this volume puts together different case studies that are more or less inspired by this non human perspective The aim is to explore what has been for a long time put aside and to provide new insights new revelations that can lead social science to undiscovered or hidden realms The outcome of this thrilling adventure can in the end be a discovery that the role of natural and social sciences or even more the character of the nature culture dichotomy would have to be re evaluated
