Happily ever after is what we are conditioned to believe we should strive for. If there was a book with the rules on dating, I am sure that I have broken every one. Our journey to discovering self worth and self love is paved with some heartache. The road has potholes that we fall into. Have you ever felt alone when you were with another person? Have you ever had a heartache? Perhaps there have been instances where you did not feel quite good enough. Have you ever wondered why you feel this way and if there is anything you can actually do about it? In Happily Ever Now, you will travel with Wendy on her journey from her first love to the present time. You will gain insight as to how an outgoing athletic scholastic young girl could have issues with confidence and self esteem. Wendy will from her own experiences share with you some of the potholes you can hit or fall into. Wendy will also share how she climbed back out and some ways that we all would benefit from to help us avoid these potholes. Throughout Happily Ever Now, Wendy will share some of her favorite quotes as well as some of her own poetry. By sharing her experiences, Wendy hopes that you will find your road to self love and self worth and be able to live Happily Ever Now. Happily ever after is what we are conditioned to believe we should strive for. If there was a book with the rules on dating, I am sure that I have broken every one. Our journey to discovering self worth and self love is paved with some heartache. The road has potholes that we fall into.

Social Spaces for Language Learning Garold Murray, 2017-08-15. Social spaces for language learning places where learners can come together in order to learn with and from each other have an important role to play in foreign language acquisition and L2 identity development. In this book, sixteen students, teachers, and administrators tell how they experience the Lcaf, a social language learning space located on the campus of a Japanese university. As part of a narrative inquiry, their unabridged stories are framed by background information on the study and an in depth analysis informed by theories of space and place and complex dynamic systems. Addressing practical as well as theoretical concerns, this book provides advice for language professionals developing and managing social language learning spaces, pedagogical insights for teachers exploring their role in out of class learning, and direction for researchers examining the various facets of language learning beyond the classroom.

Non-Death Loss and Grief Darcy L. Harris, 2019-10-16. Non-Death Loss and Grief offers an inclusive perspective on loss and grief, exploring recent research, clinical applications, and current thinking on non-death losses and the unique features of the grieving process that accompany them. The book places an overarching focus on the losses that we encounter in everyday life and the role of these loss experiences in shaping us as we continue living. A main emphasis is the importance of having words to accurately express these living losses, such as loss of communication with a loved one due to disease or trauma, which are often not acknowledged for the depth of their impact. Chapters showcase a wide range of contributions from international leaders in the field and explore individual perspectives on loss as well as experiences that are more interpersonal and sociopolitical in nature. Illustrated by case studies and clinical examples throughout, this is a highly relevant text for clinicians looking to enhance their support of those living with ongoing loss and grief.
