Exclusion and Inclusion in International Migration: Power, Resistance and Identity Armağan Teke Lloyd, 2019-04-30 People on the move face new barriers in a globalizing world Some of these barriers are related with the rise of an increasingly security oriented approach towards international migrants Notwithstanding the forces of globalization states have maintained their monopoly power over whom to admit and whom to deny within their borders In other words they remain the sovereign authority regulating the entry and exit of people However in recent years a number of states have singled out international immigration as the greatest political and social threat to their cultural and national security The securitization of immigration is founded upon the premise that the international movement of people represents an exceptional risk for the survival of the nation and this is often associated with terrorism instability and criminality The securitization of immigration is also based on the idea that the traditional authority vested in states to regulate immigration is somehow insufficient and needs to be enhanced These assumptions correspond with a real policy shift in some countries such as the United States where the government is planning to spend approximately 23 Billion Dollars on border security and immigration enforcement in 2019 alone This edited volume is an exploration of the global landscapes inhabited by refugees and labour migrants although the focus is largely on the former Despite the fact that most of the empirical studies are drawn from within Europe the book also includes research on Nepal Australia the Middle East and Japan in order to reveal the truly global dimensions of migration and the regimes governing this Content INTRODUCTION by Arman Teke Lloyd PART A Ideology and Governance of Migration CHAPTER 1 Coming to Terms with Liberal Democracy by the Populist Radical Right Parties of Western Europe Evidence from European Parliament Speeches over Minorities and Migration by Caner Tekin CHAPTER 2 A Forest with many trees Mapping migration governance and the dispersion of authority in Europe by Lisa Marie Borrelli Rebecca Mavin and Giorgia Trasciani CHAPTER 3 Policing Migrants in Transit and Upon Arrival The Bordering Tactic of Integration in Austria and Germany by Olivia Johnson PART B Regulations Suspension of Human Rights CHAPTER 4 Borders Exception and Sovereignty Australia's Migration Policies as Instruments of Suspension of Human Rights and International Obligations by Ana Carolina Macedo Abreu CHAPTER 5 Power and Sandwiched Sovereignty Nepali Migrant Workers in the Gulf Countries by Hari KC CHAPTER 6 The Body and Embodied Experiences in the British Asylum System Developing a Conceptual Perspective by Rebecca Mavin CHAPTER 7 Eritrean Unaccompanied Refugee Minors in The Netherlands Wellbeing and Health by Anna de Haan Yodit Jacob Trudy Mooren and Winta Ghebreab PART C Migrants Strategies and Identities CHAPTER 8 Social Inclusion Processes for unaccompanied minors in the city of Palermo Fostering Autonomy through a New Social Inclusion Model by Roberta Lo Bianco and Georgia Chondrou CHAPTER 9 Urban Resistances and Migrant Activism Challenging the Border Regime in Madrid City by Ana Santamarina and Almudena Cabezas CHAPTER 10 RefConnect A Mobile Social Network for Refugees by Evdokia Kogia Styliani Liberopoulou Nikolaos Alamanos Vasilis Pierros and Christos Michalakelis CHAPTER 11 Halo Halo Nostalgia and Navigating Life for Overseas Filipino Workers OFW s in the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia by Simeon S Magliveras

The History of the Study of Landforms or the Development of Geomorphology. Volume 5 T.P. Burt, A.S. Goudie, H.A. Viles, 2022-10-20 Co published with British Society for Geomorphology This volume is the fifth in the definitive series The History of the Study of Landforms or the Development of Geomorphology Volume 1 1964 dealt with contributions to the field up to 1890 Volume 2 1973 with the concepts and contributions of William Morris Davis and Volume 3 1991 covered historical and regional themes during the classic period of geomorphology 1890 1950 Volume 4 2008 concentrated on studies of geomorphological processes and Quaternary geomorphology between 1890 and 1965 by the end of this period process based studies had become dominant Volume 5 builds on this platform covering in detail the revolutionary changes in approach that characterized the study of geomorphology in the second half of the twentieth century It is divided into three sections the first deals with changes in approach and method the second with changes in ideas and the broader scientific context within which geomorphology is studied and the final section details advances in research on processes and landforms The volume s objective is to describe and analyse many of the developments that provide a foundation for the rich and varied subject matter of twenty first century geomorphology

The Middle and Upper Paleolithic Archeology of the Levant and Beyond Yoshihiro Nishiaki,Takeru Akazawa,2017-12-06 This volume is a compilation of results from sessions of the Second International Conference on the Replacement of Neanderthals by Modern Humans which took place between November 30 and December 6 2014 in Hokkaido Japan Similar to the first conference held in 2012 in Tokyo the 2014 conference RNMH2014 aimed to compile the results of the latest multidisciplinary approaches investigating the issues surrounding the replacement of Neanderthals by modern humans The results of the sessions supplemented by off site contributions center on the archeology of the Middle and Upper Paleolithic of the Levant and beyond The first part of this volume presents recent findings from the Levant while the second part focuses on the neighboring regions namely the Caucasus the Zagros and South Asia The 13 chapters in this volume highlight the distinct nature of the cultural occurrences during the Middle and Upper Paleolithic periods of the Levant displaying a continuous development as well as a combination of lithic traditions that may have originated in different regions This syncretism which is an unusual occurrence in the regions discussed in this volume reinforces the importance of the Levant as a region for interpreting the RNMH phenomenon in West Asia

Healthy, Resilient, and Sustainable Communities After Disasters Institute of Medicine,Board on Health Sciences Policy,Committee on Post-Disaster Recovery of a Community's Public Health, Medical, and Social Services,2015-09-10 In the devastation that follows a major disaster there is a need for multiple sectors to unite and devote new resources to support the rebuilding of infrastructure the provision of health and social services the restoration of care delivery systems and other critical recovery needs In some cases billions of dollars from public private and charitable sources are invested to help communities recover National rhetoric often characterizes these efforts as a return to normal But for many American communities pre disaster conditions are far from optimal Large segments of the U S population suffer from preventable health problems experience inequitable access to services and rely on overburdened health systems A return to pre event conditions in such cases may be short sighted given the high costs both economic and social of poor health Instead it is important to understand that the disaster recovery process offers a series of unique and valuable opportunities to improve on the status quo Capitalizing on these opportunities can advance the long term health resilience and sustainability of communities thereby better preparing them for future challenges Healthy Resilient and Sustainable Communities After Disasters identifies and recommends recovery practices and novel programs most likely to impact overall community public health and contribute to resiliency for future incidents This book makes the case that disaster recovery should be guided by a healthy community vision where health considerations are integrated into all aspects of recovery planning before and after a disaster and funding streams are leveraged in a coordinated manner and applied to health improvement priorities in order to meet human recovery needs and create healthy built and natural environments The conceptual framework presented in Healthy Resilient and Sustainable Communities After Disasters lays the groundwork to achieve this goal and provides operational guidance for multiple sectors involved in community planning and disaster recovery Healthy Resilient and Sustainable Communities After Disasters calls for actions at multiple levels to facilitate recovery strategies that optimize community health With a shared healthy community vision strategic planning that prioritizes health and coordinated implementation disaster recovery can result in communities that are healthier more livable places for current and future generations to grow and thrive communities that are better prepared for future adversities Assembling Bus Rapid Transit in the Global South Malve Jacobsen, 2020-12-13 This book explores the mobile ethnography of Dar es Salaam where consultants and politicians have planned and implemented a bus rapid transit BRT system for two decades It analyses the dual processes of assembling BRT in the Tanzanian metropolis and establishing BRT as a policy model of and for the Global South The book elucidates how policy models are constructed and circulated around the globe and depicts the processes by which they are translated between and materialise within specific contexts It presents the case of BRT to demonstrate how technocrats shape these processes through persuasive work aimed at disseminating and stabilising this transport model and how local actors influence its adaptation in Dar es Salaam The book adopts a double mobility approach to show how this ethnography follows travelling consultants circulating policies and moving buses to explore the fluidity of the BRT model Linking key debates in policy mobility studies and Science and Technology Studies enriched with postcolonial perspectives and geographies of transport and infrastructure it offers new insights into the technopolitics of planning and implementing infrastructure systems This book will appeal to academics and students of human geography transport studies science and technology studies and African and development studies interested in the technopolitics of transport planning Land Fictions D. Beyond Control James F. Barnett Jr., 2017-03-16 Beyond Control reveals the Mississippi as a waterway of change unnaturally confined by ever larger levees and control structures During the great flood of 1973 the current scoured a hole beneath the main structure near Baton Rouge and enlarged a pre existing football field size crater That night the Mississippi River nearly changed its course for a shorter and steeper path to the sea Such a map changing reconfiguration of the country s largest river would bear national significance as well as disastrous consequences for New Orleans and towns like Morgan City at the mouth of the Atchafalaya River Since 1973 the US Army Corps of Engineers Control Complex at Old River has kept the Mississippi from jumping out of its historic channel and plunging through the Atchafalaya Basin to the Gulf of Mexico Beyond Control traces the history of this phenomenon beginning with a major channel shift around 3 000 years ago By the time European colonists began to explore the Lower Mississippi Valley a unique confluence of waterways had formed where the Red River joined the Mississippi and the Atchafalaya River flowed out into the Atchafalaya Basin A series of human alterations to this potentially volatile web of rivers starting with a bend cutoff in 1831 by Captain Henry Miller Shreve set the forces in motion for the Mississippi s move into the Atchafalaya Basin Told against the backdrop of the Lower Mississippi River s impending diversion the book s chapters chronicle historic floods rising flood crests a changing strategy for flood protection and competing interests in the management of the Old River outlet Beyond Control is both a history and a close look at an inexorable living process happening now in the twenty first century

Globalization and Urbanization James H. Spencer, 2014-06-26 During the past decade the world reached the point of becoming more urban than not as the majority of people on the planet now live not in small towns or villages but in provincial national and global cities Scholars have long been fascinated by so called global cities world cities and the urban engines of the global economy James H Spencer argues however that such an emphasis misses the central fact that urbanization goes well beyond the usual suspects of New York Tokyo London and Shanghai The author charts urbanization across the Global South and North resulting in what he describes as a planetary global urban ecosystem This concept that challenges us to realize that in daily life their similar physical and social ecosystems that make cities more understandable to each other than to their own rural hinterlands Spencer s vivid case studies of Addis Ababa Ho Chi Minh City Honolulu and New York draw out the commonalities of our intertwined built and social environments and how they express a shared humanity across continents and cultures

The Life of Permafrost Pey-Yi Chu,2020-12-07 In the Anthropocene the thawing of frozen earth due to global warming has drawn worldwide attention to permafrost Contemporary scientists define permafrost as ground that maintains a negative temperature for at least two years But where did this particular conception of permafrost originate and what alternatives existed The Life of Permafrost provides an intellectual history of permafrost placing the phenomenon squarely in the political social and material context of Russian and Soviet science Pey Yi Chu shows that understandings of frozen earth were shaped by two key experiences in the Russian Empire and the Soviet Union On one hand the colonization and industrialization of Siberia nourished an engineering perspective on frozen earth that viewed the phenomenon as an aggregate physical structure ground On the other a Russian and Soviet tradition of systems thinking encouraged approaching frozen earth as a process condition and space tied to planetary exchanges of energy and matter Aided by the US militarization of the Arctic during the Cold War the engineering view of frozen earth as an obstacle to construction became dominant The Life of Permafrost tells the fascinating story of how permafrost came to acquire life as Russian and Soviet scientists studied named and defined it

Earned Citizenship Michael J. Sullivan,2019-03-19 The migration and settlement of 11 million unauthorized immigrants is among the leading political challenges facing the United States today The majority of unauthorized immigrants in the U S have been here for more than five years and are settling into American communities working forming families and serving in the military even though they may be detained and deported if they are discovered An open question remains as to what to do about unauthorized immigrants who are already living in the United States On one hand it is important that the government sends a message that future violations of immigration law will not be tolerated On the other sits a deeper ethical dilemma that is the focus of this book what do the state and citizens owe to unauthorized immigrants who have served their adopted country Earned Citizenship argues that long term unauthorized immigrant residents should be able to earn legalization and a pathway to citizenship through service in their adopted communities Their service would act as restitution for immigration law violations Military service in particular would merit naturalization in countries with a strong citizen soldier tradition including the United States The book also considers the civic value of caregiving as a service to citizens and the country contending that family immigration policies should be expanded to recognize the importance of caregiving duties for dependents This argument is part of a broader project in political theory and public policy aimed at reconciling civic republicanism with a feminist ethic of care and its emphasis on dependency work As a whole Earned Citizenship provides a non humanitarian justification for legalizing unauthorized immigrants based on their contributions to citizens and institutions in their adopted nation

Structural Transformation and Economic Development Banji Oyelaran-Oyeyinka, Kaushalesh Lal, 2016-09-13 This book examines long term structural changes and the broad impact on economic development in regional comparative perspectives The book analyzes data across Africa Asia and Latin America It looks at key variables of productivity growth industrialization poverty urbanization and employment This book is concerned with understanding structural change dynamics and how it affects job creation living standards and the efficiency of productive cities through manufacturing productivity growth that benefits majority of citizens With empirical evidence from a selected number of developing countries including China India Brazil Nigeria and South Africa the book attempts to present the considerable structural changes of these countries over the last few decades It highlights that growth without the expected job creation is one of the distinct features of growth in emerging and developing countries It suggests that countries may well record economic growth whether through within sector productivity increase or through structural change but this may not necessarily lead to employment an important concern for long term development
